

CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES DEMANDED

NEW SECRETARY OF STATE SENDS NOTES TO BELLIGERENTS

Action Taken In Trouble Between Panama And Costa Rica Based On Grounds Of Broad Expediency--American Interests Involved--Reply From Costa Rica Unsatisfactory.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Cessation of hostilities between Costa Rica and Panama is demanded in identical notes which it was learned tonight the state department had dispatched today to the government of those countries by Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state.

This action was the first of the Harding administration in the realm of foreign affairs and was said to have been based on the grounds of broad expediency, as the dispute involved American interests in the Panama canal zone. Dispatch of the notes followed conferences between President Harding, Secretary Hughes and John W. Weeks and Edwin Denby, secretary of war and secretary of the navy.

Secretary Weeks was called in soon after the conference began, and presented latest despatches from the canal zone as to the situation.

Mr. Denby discussed the question later with the president. Replies to Colby Notes. Replies from Panama and Costa Rica to the notes despatched several days ago by former Secretary of State Colby were received today. That from Panama was said to have expressed a willingness to accept the offer of the good offices of the United States in attempting to settle the dispute but the one from Costa Rica was described as unsatisfactory.

It was said the American government had no official information that either Panama or Costa Rica intended to submit the dispute to the league of nations, as reported in press despatches from Central America and Paris. Today's action of the state department, it was added, was taken without reference to such reports.

President Harding and his advisors were said to have given their approval of the steps already taken to protect American interests in the zone of hostilities. President Harding has taken a keen personal interest in the situation and was said to be anxious to see everything possible done to restore peace.

FRENCH OFFICIALS HAVE FAITH IN U. S.

PARIS, March 5.—French officials are showing careful study of President Harding's inaugural address, regard it as justifying French opinion that the United States would always champion France in matters of right and justice and declare that no cause for disappointment or discouragement is to be found in the message. Officials professed to find in the address support of their opinion that the United States would be brought into a league.

MAYOR OF SCHRAM CITY IS HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Executive is Accused of Fatal Shooting of Hillsboro Man

CLAIMS SHOOTING IN SELF DEFENSE

Hillsboro, Ill., March 5.—Walter Brown, mayor of Schram City, was arrested late this afternoon, following a coroner's inquest, and is being held in the Montgomery county jail without bond, charged with the fatal shooting of Jesse L. Davenport, of Hillsboro, on the streets of Schram City late Wednesday evening.

Davenport died in a Hillsboro hospital from the effects of a bullet wound in his intestines. Mayor Brown's version of the shooting is that Davenport appeared on the streets in Schram City last Wednesday evening, intoxicated. When Mayor Brown attempted to arrest him, Davenport flourished a revolver and snapped it at him three times. He declared he shot Davenport in self-defense.

Davenport fled and it was not until 6 o'clock the following morning when he asked for medical aid, that it became known he had been shot. He was removed to the hospital in Hillsboro at once and Mayor Brown, who conducts a soft drink parlor in Schram City, surrendered himself to the sheriff. Davenport was 26 years old and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Tipton Davenport, of Hillsboro. He will be buried in Hillsboro tomorrow.

REDUCE NUMBER ON COMMITTEES

Republicans Reach Decision to Reduce Number of Democrats on All Standing Committees in House.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—A decision to reduce the number of Democratic members on standing committees of the new house of representatives was reached today by the Republican committee on committees. Chairman Mondell announced that the ways and means committee would be made up of seventeen Republicans and eight Democrats while on other principal committees of the house there would be fifteen Republicans and six Democrats.

The reduction arises, it was explained out of the reduced size of the Democratic minority in the new house.

The election of members to committee places will take place at a meeting one week before the convening of an extra session. Meantime, Chairman Mondell and Representative Mann, Illinois, and Morris Indiana, will draft a tentative list to submit to the full committee at that time.

ADMITS THAT REVOLT HAS NOT BEEN CHECKED

LONDON, March 5.—Admission that the revolt at Kronstadt had not been checked is contained in a wireless message received from Moscow tonight. The report, however, denies its importance.

"From a military point of view," says the despatch, "Kronstadt is not dangerous to Petrograd for the Krasnaya Gorka fort commands Kronstadt and could destroy it at any moment. The Petrograd garrison is unwavering in its loyalty to the soviet while the mutineers' demoralization is increasing."

SUBMARINE CHASER FIRES ON CABLE SHIP OFF MIAMI

Crew of Ship is Placed Under Arrest, But Later Released

WESTERN UNION HEAD ISSUES STATEMENT

MIAMI, Fla., March 5.—Work of connecting the Western Union Miami-Barbadoes cable begun again today was abruptly called late today when the United States submarine chaser 154 appeared and opened fire on the cable ship Robert C. Clowery and placed the entire crew under arrest.

The action took place on the high seas about four miles off the coast of Miami Beach near the buoy that was attached to the end of the cable when it was laid from the three miles limit of the United States to Barbadoes by the British cable ship Colonia last summer.

The Robert Clowery arrived off Miami yesterday from Jacksonville to start work on connecting the cable and had picked up the loose end when the submarine chaser arrived on the scene. Signals hoisted by the naval vessel, it is said, were disregarded by the cable ship, after which a shot was fired by the sub chaser across the bow of the Clowery which promptly dove to.

Captain Smith of the Slowery was ordered to desist from the cable work and both vessels entered the port of Miami this afternoon. When the Clowery tied up at the municipal dock the entire crew was placed under arrest by naval authorities. It is said tonight the crew was released from arrest by Lieutenant Murray of the seventh naval district. Today's clash between the navy and the Western Union Telegraph company was the second in the government's efforts to prevent the landing of the Barbadoes cable in Miami.

Vessel on Watch Constantly. An attempt to run the cable across the channel on the Western side of the causeway last summer was prevented by armed navy forces and a submarine chaser has been stationed here since to prevent a repetition of cable laying operations.

President Wilson instructed the navy department to prevent the landing of the Miami-Barbadoes cable and at the time the British cable ship Colonia was sent here to lay the cable four destroyers were sent to Miami to prevent the wire from being brought ashore. The Colonia tied an end of the cable to a buoy on Miami Beach, outside the three mile limit and proceeded with the cable laying operations on the high seas between that point and Barbadoes. Two destroyers accompanied the Colonia on this trip but did not prevent the laying of the cable on the high seas. Last week in the New York Federal court the injunction against the Western Union Telegraph company preventing the landing of the cable was set aside and the telegraph company was successful in securing a court order restraining the government from interfering with the work.

Local authorities of the navy have never had their previous order to prevent the landing of the cable revoked it is understood.

Washington, March 5.—The navy department was without advice as to the whereabouts of the cable ship 154 in holding up the Western Union cable ship off Miami, Fla., late today, but was endeavoring to get into wireless communication with the naval authorities there tonight.

Carlton Issues Statement. New York, March 5.—Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, when informed tonight that a United States sub chaser had opened fire on the Robert C. Clowery, the Western Union cable ship, authorized the following statement: "No effort whatever has been made to lay the cable to Miami Beach. The Clowery has been ordered to make a test on the cable plus far laid to see if it is in good condition and to make a report on its condition to the company."

MAHON GRANTED DIVORCE FROM CLARA HAMON

Phoenix, Ariz., March 5.—Frank L. Hamon, nephew of the late A. J. Hamon, of Ardmore, Okla., and former husband of Clara Smith Hamon, charged with having killed A. J. Hamon, was granted a divorce from his second wife, Gertrude Walker Hamon, in superior court here today. The plaintiff charged the defendant with cruelty. The suit was uncontested. The two were married in Tucson, Ariz., in 1918.

GERMAN REICHSTAG WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH ITS DELEGATES

Confident Dr. Simons Will Negotiate in Limits Set

IS AUTHORIZED TO WITHHOLD SIGNATURE

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, March 5.—(By A. A.) Chancellor Fehrenbach informed the reichstag today that the cabinet did not propose to interfere with Dr. Simons, the German foreign secretary, and his fellow delegates to the London reparations conference. He declared the cabinet was confident that the foreign secretary would make every effort to negotiate within the limits set.

"In accordance with the directions approved by the reichstag," the chancellor said, "Dr. Simons was authorized to withhold his signature from any obligations which the German people would be unable to fulfill. These instructions have not been and will not be changed. The cabinet is confident Dr. Simons will utilize to the utmost every opportunity to conclude negotiations within the limit set."

Herr Fehrenbach concluded by declaring he was convinced the German people would acknowledge the signature of their agent in London if it covered an obligation which, after a most careful investigation proved it did not go beyond the limit of possible achievement.

TWO MEN WOUNDED IN AN ATTEMPT TO STEAL WHISKEY

Are Shot By Chief of Prohibition Group in Peoria

ONE MAN IS NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

Peoria, Ill., March 5.—W. E. Breton, chief of prohibition agents in this district, tonight severely wounded two men in frustrating what dry law officers believe was an attempt to raid the warehouse of the Great Western distillery here tonight.

The group chief, with members of his staff, had been hiding near the distillery for several hours as the result of a tip that the warehouses were to be robbed tonight. Arthur Krither, who is not expected to live, was shot in the abdomen by Breton, after he had attempted to draw on the officer, when Breton sought to search him, following the halting of a truck near the distillery. The other wounded man is James Penn, companion of Krither, who was fired upon by the group chief when he fled, after Krither was shot.

MAIL TRUCK ROBBED AT POLICE STATION DOOR

CHICAGO, March 5.—Five armed automobile bandits tonight held up a mail truck, kidnapped the driver, drove the truck through crowded streets to an outlying section and picked out six pouches of registered mail and escaped. The pouches taken are known to have contained the receipts of several postal sub-stations and the value of their contents was estimated at from a few thousand dollars to an amount exceeding $100,000.

Postal inspectors declared it would be impossible to give the exact sum until it was ascertained if the missing pouches contained any bank remittances. The hold-up took place scarcely a block from a police station.

With a pistol pointed at his head the driver was forced to enter the bandit car while one thief drove off with the truck after driving for about two miles, the truck was stopped and looted and the driver locked in the mail compartment. He escaped by forcing open the door.

CHICAGO WILL STAGE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

MISSOURI HOUSES TAKE ADJOURNMENT

Jefferson City, Mo., March 5.—Both branches of the general assembly will adjourn Monday in memory of the late Champ Clark.

FELLOW WORKERS OF CHAMP CLARK PAY HIM TRIBUTE

Farewell Symbolic of Dead Statesman's Life Career

SORROW KNEW NO POLITICAL LINES

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 5.—As simply as the man they eulogized had lived, his fellows of the house of representatives said their farewell today to Champ Clark of Missouri.

The body of their fallen companion lay in peaceful slumber in the chambers where echoes of his voice seemed still to eddy and whisper in memory of his long years of service. And about it mourned men of every walk of life.

Tonight guarded by a last honoring escort of his colleagues in house and senate, the body was being taken by special train to Missouri, there to rest among home folks.

"He stood four-square to the world," Senator Reed said of the dead leader in adding the confirmation of the senate to the tribute of the house. And the same thought had come to Representative Mann of Illinois, whose sorrow knew no partisan restraint.

Memory Will be Influence. "His memory will remain as an influence on the house and the country," he said, voice shaken with emotion for an old, warm friend from whom he was parting. "Those who knew him best, loved him best, and yet there are millions who never saw his countenance, who never heard his magnetic voice who never in time of personal need received his counsel—they too loved him."

There was little more to the ceremony than that. Just the lowered draped coffin before the speaker's desk and the massed flower draped coffin before the men and women known the nation over, grouped about it. Black-robed justices of the supreme court, cabinet officers, diplomats, senators, generals and admirals, and the full membership of the house were on the floor.

And at the end with the quiet face of the dead exposed, deep graven with the last suffering hours, long lines filled all aisles to file by and gaze upon it. Lines in which senators and cabinet officers moved at elbow with humbler folk who work about the great building, lines that wrote in human documents the democracy Champ Clark had lived and preached.

ITALIAN PRESS MAKES COMMENT ON HARDING

Hope Expressed That He Will Understand Impossibility of United States Living Apart From Europe.

ROME, March 5.—The Epoca commenting today on the inauguration of President Harding says the passing of the presidential powers from Mr. Wilson to Mr. Harding definitely closes the historic period in which the United States collaborated with Europe in a cause which seemed to make it worldwide, but which quickly became European again.

The Tribuna expresses hope that when Mr. Harding takes the reins of government he understands the impossibility of the United States completely distinguishing itself in Europe declaring the commercial, economic and financial positions of the United States to be intimately intermingled with those of Europe and the world.

HARDING GETS BURYING GROUND

Lancaster, O., March 5.—By a peculiar land deal, President Warren G. Harding becomes owner of a one-acre tract of land just west of Lancaster, that he may use for his burial ground only. According to court records here the tract was deeded 100 years ago by Nathaniel Wilson, a pioneer farmer, to President Andrew Jackson and to his successors in office, to be used as their burial ground only.

Harding is the twenty-third president to be notified of his burial privilege.

HARDING'S FIRST DAY IN WHITE HOUSE ONE MARKED BY ACTIVITY

President Sets a Fast Record Which Covers All Phases of the Experiences to Which Chief Executives Fall Heir—Attends Theater in Evening—Has New Mascot

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Harding's first day in the white house set a fast record of presidential activity and about covered the whole range of experiences to which chief executives ordinarily fall heir. Besides dispatching his first diplomatic note, he found time to inquire into the condition of every government department, canvass the situation in congress, consider the reorganization of the national political machinery of his party, dictate a big sheaf of letters, shake hands with several hundreds of his fellow citizens, install a new white house mascot, and attend the theater.

Mr. Harding's work began early. Before 9 o'clock he was wading through the first batch of mail to come to his attention as president. Beginning with a succession of conferences with his newly installed cabinet officials, he kept an unbroken schedule of appointments with cabinet members and others until 1:30, when he took an hour for lunch. In the afternoon he and Mrs. Harding held over general's reception in the east room, standing for more than two hours, while guests, invited and uninvited, passed by.

Attend Theatre. Tonight President and Mrs. Harding were escorted to the presidential box, draped with the American flag at the left of the stage, while the orchestra played the "Star Spangled Banner," and the audience applauded.

The cabinet member with whom Mr. Harding conferred longest was Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, with whom he discussed the note to Panama and Costa Rica. With most of the other department heads he merely talked over general conditions and problems of organization.

The coming reorganizing of the Republican national committee, he discussed with Elmer Dover, of Oregon, former secretary of the committee and now prominently mentioned for the post of chairman, soon to be vacated by Will H. Hays, the new postmaster general. Suggestions about special sessions were heard by the president and Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, senate and house Republican leaders. They came to present their views on the date of the session and to inform the chief executive about the situation that will confront his tariff program. It was said afterward that no date, would be set until there had been further conferences.

Mr. Harding's afternoon reception began with a pre-arranged call of members of the Republican national committee and developed into a function recalling the public receptions of bygone administrations.

Many at Reception. Many friends have been invited to call and scores of sightseers at the east entrance took advantage of the opportunity and trooped up the steps to shake hands with the president and Mrs. Harding. The president's mascot, a blooded Alredale pup named "Caswell Laddie Boy," was brought into the executive offices as a gift by Charles W. Quetsche, of Toledo, O. With many manifestations of pleasure he led his new pet into his office. Later the president brought "Caswell Laddie Boy" out and proudly exhibited him to a group of newspaper correspondents.

"You see," he said, laughingly, "I am going to have near me at least one friend who won't talk."

BUFFALO BOWLER MAKES NEW RECORD

Buffalo, N. Y., March 5.—Rolling a ball with but one finger hole Joseph Gilligan, a Buffalo ten-pin shooter established a high single score record of 299 pins in the American bowling congress tournament this afternoon. Gilligan's high score of 299 is the second bowled in an A. B. C. tournament. E. Davis of Milwaukee having accomplished this feat in the Peoria tournament in 1915.

A new leader was also established in the two man event today. F. Tiff and A. Green of Kalamazoo, Michigan, taking first place with a score of 1293 pins. C. White and H. Gallagher of Kalamazoo rolled into fifth place with a total of 1161.

MEXICAN STRIKERS BURN R. R. BRIDGES

Laredo, Texas, March 5.—What is believed to be the first act of violence in the Mexican railway strike, was the burning of a small bridge between Saltillo and San Luis Potosi, according to reports. The bridge was quickly repaired. There seems to be no improvement in the situation officials said.

For the past twenty years or so they have been referring to the New Willard hotel at Washington, for that seems to be the headquarters of most of the government notables. After another decade or so it is probable that "new" will have worn off.

A dispatch refers to a recent happening as "the first act of violence" on the part of Mexican railway strikers. It is beyond the memory of present day men to turn back the pages of history far enough to perceive the "first act of violence" in Mexico.

Mr. Wilson is now a private citizen and should be free from the criticism to which men in public life must become accustomed. However, there was a good deal said in a few words about the ex-president when one writer recently said that the principal mistakes committed were because Mr. Wilson chose to be "a lonely leader" rather than a "fellow servant."

Evidently it is resources more than time that are essential in the rehabilitation of a devastated country. During the war time because of export the number of hogs and cattle in this country was reduced considerably below normal. Today there are more of these animals than before the war. The same development would have taken place in the war-devastated countries if the people there but had the funds.

If you have been in doubt as to Mr. Harding's views on the League of Nations read this clear and enlightening paragraph from his inaugural address.

"But America, our America, the America built on the foundations laid by the inspired fathers, can be a party to no permanent military alliance. It can enter into no political commitments, nor assume any economic obligations which will subject our decisions to any other than our own authority."

Transportation is certainly one of the biggest factors which must be taken into account when living costs are figured. This is being emphasized in a marked way now that freight costs have been so greatly increased. It is said for example that there are today in Montana something more than two million bushels of potatoes which are going to waste. This supply is in excess of the local demand and the freight costs for hauling the potatoes to one of the big markets would be more than the market sales price. Evidently the vegetables will rot and waste unless the market price increases or freight decreases.

Again we say, the Jacksonville automobile show which is to open tomorrow will be a real credit to the business men who are managing it and to the community. Decorations are being used with lavish hand and the automobile men together with merchants have entered so enthusiastically into the plan that a real city type of exhibition has been provided.

In addition to the displays, visitors will enjoy the vaudeville and musical program which has been arranged for each evening. Admission is free and all the people of Jacksonville and Morgan county need to do to show their appreciation is to view the exhibit and listen to the programs that have been arranged for their entertainment.

Gov. Small speaks with no uncertain sound in requesting Col. Miller of the department of public works to reject all bids for road construction thus far received. While the bids made were considerably lower than those of a year ago, the Illinois governor evidently believes that there should be prices made for materials which will justify still lower contract figures.

There is something of a warning too in the governor's advocacy of a thorough investigation of the possibilities of the state undertaking its own road construction work.

Governor Small is a business man of such wide and successful practical experience that the suggestion from him of state road building has a real meaning. Perhaps he thinks that a word to the wise should be sufficient.

PROMINENT WHITE HALL RESIDENT DIES

Death of L. O. Bates Came at Early Hour Saturday As Result of Paralytic Stroke — Funeral Services Today.

White Hall, March 5.—The death of L. O. Bates, the last of the historic Bates family that founded and carried on the Bates Vineyard and Grape Nursery for three-quarters of a century, occurred at 2:50 a. m., today, following a stroke of paralysis last Monday that completely prostrated him. His age was 65 years.

This was the second paralytic stroke, the first occurring about two years ago, since which time he has been in a feeble condition. Mr. Bates represented the second generation in the ownership of the Bates homestead on West Bridgeport street that has been noted for its fruit and hospitality. It was founded by his father, the late Peter J. Bates, who came to White Hall from Northern New York in 1839, purchasing a farm that represents most of the land between the railroads and the eastern limits of the city, and which was later sold in parcels for various purposes, including railroad, manufacturing and residence. Peter J. Bates was one of the greatest characters of his day and his memory is revered by the present generation, although he has been dead for fifteen years or more, his wife having preceded him by many years. For a score of years or more Peter J. Bates maintained weather records for the government that constitute a valuable reference volume.

Peter J. and Rebecca Bates had two sons, Wesley P. and Lewis O. Some forty years ago the two sons formed a partnership in the conduct of the Bates Vineyard and Grape Nursery, their father retiring from activity in this direction. They continued the business until their deaths, the former dying in October, 1913, honored as a soldier, churchman and citizen. The widow and a son of W. P. Bates survive, the latter being T. P. Bates, of St. Louis. These are the nearest relatives of the deceased, excepting three nieces and a brother-in-law at Alva, Oklahoma.

L. O. Bates was never married. He traveled extensively over Illinois in the interest of the business and was widely known. He was a Mason and a Methodist, as were all the members of the family before him, and was a staunch and highly respected citizen. Funeral services will be held in the M. E. church at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, the discourse being delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, and the interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

The future of the Bates vineyard is problematical, according to a statement today by T. P. Bates.

J. P. Becker, wife and son of Mason City, Ill., are week-end visitors at the home of L. E. Deppe, of 615 South Diamond street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith and family from the region of Orleans came to the city Saturday.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

There was a very successful meeting of the executive committee of the Farm Bureau held Saturday afternoon at the farm bureau office. L. A. Reed presided and those present were, H. E. Kitzer, J. W. Arnold, C. L. Hawker, O. A. Rohrer, W. H. Crum and C. R. Gibson.

The monthly report showed that the bills for the bureau expenses amounted to $895 for February. The committee authorized these bills to be paid. The secretary made a financial statement showing that the net worth of the organization at present is $3,707. It was voted that all outstanding dues of the organization be collected. The committee also established an incidental checking fund of $50 for the use of the associate advisor. Miss Short was engaged for the coming year at a salary of $90 per month.

The committee decided not to take any action for additional room for the bureau at present.

The plan of holding community meetings was approved by the committee and it was also decided to work out a program of work for the farm bureau.

The following permanent committees were appointed: Auditing committee, financial committee, membership committee and a resolutions committee.

The executive committee went on record as favoring an appropriation of $5,000 by the state of Illinois for carrying on the work of the Illinois Poultry association. A resolution was read from the Henry county farm bureau, asking co-operation in supporting a measure to pay for sheep killed from a general fund instead of a special fund. The committee decided to refer this matter to the Illinois Agricultural Association.

PARK BOARD PLANS MANY BETTERMENTS

Much Grading Will Be Done This Year—Board Has Problem of Building Bridge in Mauvalterre Park.

The Park Board met in special session Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Kate Hollinger. All members were present except President Nichols.

Many items of interest to the public were up for discussion. The custodian was authorized to run a water pipe across the lake from the refreshment pavilion to the new flower beds immediately east of the pergola. Some new shrubs were ordered for immediate planting south of the pavilion; several different kinds of vines were ordered for planting along the tennis court back-stops and for the pergola.

The east road leading out of the park is to be regraded and proper drainage put in so that this portion of the drive will be protected from the water which has hitherto made this drive at times impassable. A large culvert is to be put in the drive across the bridge where the road now turns toward the golf course.

In the new Mauvalterre Park chief interest now centers in building the north drive, placing a substantial artistic bridge across the creek immediately east of the new power house and in planting shrubs and grasses on both sides of the big dam to prevent further soil erosion. A large quantity of Indian currants were ordered for planting on the north face of the dam for immediate effect. Mr. Simonds, the landscape architect, has specified a number of shrubs to be planted here. This will be secured at an early date as soon as the soil can be gotten ready.

The big job for the park board is to find ways to finance the cost of building the bridge over the creek below the spillway. This bridge will cost several thousand dollars, but it is vital in making the driveway around the north side of the lake.

It has been suggested that in many communities memorials have been built for those soldiers who have fallen in the late war. Why not have such a memorial for the fallen heroes of Morgan county. The Park Board is so hampered for funds that some plan of this kind might enable the bridge and the road to be built this year.

The members of the Board will welcome any suggestions as to ways and means that may be used to raise funds to help develop this new playground for Jacksonville.

Don't Choose an executor for Sentimental Reasons

You don't select a friend or relative or factory superintendent or executive in your business, because these positions require men with years of experience.

Apply the same reasoning to your estate. Administering estates is becoming more difficult and complicated each year, and should be in the hands of specially trained experts.

You can obtain the services of this well-equipped organization at the same cost as those of the individual. Write or call.

COSTA RICA FORCES ARE ADVANCING

Report Casualties But Do Not Say Whether Almirante Has Been Captured—Panamanians Capture Many Prisoners.

Panama, March 5.—(By The Associated Press)—Confirmation was received here this morning that Costa Rican forces are advancing upon Almirante in the Province of Bocas del Torra, where extensive North American interests are located. The authorities report casualties but do not say whether Almirante has been captured altho little hope is entertained that the Panamanians could withstand the superior forces of the Costa Ricans.

Almirante is included in the territory which Panama has been holding under the status quo while the frontier lines have remained undecided.

With the capture of three Costa Rican vessels at Coto, the Panamanians have nearly two hundred prisoners with corresponding arms and equipment.

Unconfirmed reports were spread here this morning that United States naval forces were ready to proceed to Coto and Almirante.

LONG TIME MORGAN COUNTY RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Mary Stewart Passes Away
After Nearly Century of Years —Saw Wilderness Develop.

Mrs. Mary Stewart, who was accounted the oldest native resident of Morgan county, died Saturday morning at the age of nearly ninety-five years, at the home of her grand-nephew and niece, Mr. and
Mrs. Robert Elmore of 1337 South East street. The deceased was the widow of Robert Stewart, a Mexican war veteran known to many of the earlier residents of this county.
Her parents came to Illinois in pioneer days and reared their family here in Morgan county.

It was given to Mrs. Stewart to see Illinois and this community develop from a wild and pathless prairie to its present state of civilization. Her parents were John and Tabitha Angelo, who came overland from Pennsylvania. The family homestead was established on the old Shanahan farm three miles southwest of Jacksonville, and it was there that Mrs. Stewart was born June 6, 1825. Her marriage to Robert Stewart occurred in 1850. The husband, who served in the Mexican war, lived until the days preceding the days of the War of the Rebellion and then passed away following a brief illness.

There were four children, all of whom died within a period of four years. A staunch Methodist, Mrs. Stewart greatly enjoyed the preaching of Peter Cartwright and the famous pioneer preacher was often a guest at the Stewart home when in this part of this country.
Born with a leaning toward the Democratic faith, when the days of suffrage came Mrs. Stewart maintained party loyalty and it was her pleasure to cast her vote for Woodrow Wilson for president. As a young woman she knew Stephen A.
Douglas and she followed with interest the Lincoln-Douglas debates. It was her pleasure to talk to friends about early days in Morgan county and she could recall the time when Grant and Sherman made addresses in Jacksonville.

To live nearly ninety-five years and know the meaning of almost a century of time is a marvelous thing. When Mrs. Stewart was a child shoes were little known and stoves had not been introduced in those days for both children and grownups, but without doubt those very hardships made for a ruggedness of character that strengthened the succeeding gen-

The remains of Mrs. Stewart were removed to the Gillham Funeral home. Funeral services will be held there at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Randle of Brooklyn

STONES WERE PLACED DURING TOTAL ECLIPSE

Mark Exact Longitude and Latitude of Place Where Laws Are Passed.

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(By The A. P.)—Curiosity with which legislators of each successive general assembly view two little square stones in the state house grounds, has led to investigation of his session and discovery that they were placed at the time of the total eclipse of August 7, 1869 and that they give the exact latitude and longitude of the place Illinois' laws are enacted.

Bills become laws for Illinois just 657 feet above sea level and by the signs on these little stone blocks, at a latitude 39 degrees, 39 minutes, and 20 seconds west and longitude, 89 degrees, 47 minutes and 56 seconds north. One is imbedded in the sidewalk and the other juts up about 200 feet away, in the lawn.

"As determined by astronomical calculations in 1869 the Illinois state house is, the inscription on the sidewalk stone commences. This arouses some speculation but not as much as the white stone in the grass, from which the inscription is about entirely effaced. Its portent, however was determined by U. S. Weather Bureau Observer Kennen H. Herman, who deciphered it thus "U. S. North Meridian Station established in 1869."

This stone, according to Mr. Herman was located astronomically at the same time as the sidewalk marker, and was put for convenience of possible future demands for latitude and longitude in Springfield or vicinity. Calculations can be made from these two stones, which could not be made from only one of them.

Springfield was in the center of the total eclipse in 1869. Preparations for it by the U. S. Weather Bureau included the placing of large portable telescopes on the campus of the Cordia college and on one of the local banks. The city was amply forewarned of the approaching phenomenon, but did not meet it with stolidness.

Expressions of anxiety were common as the darkness came on. The moon started across the sun's surface at 1:04:25 in the afternoon and covered it completely at 5:05:20 7-16. According to newspaper accounts of the time, a strange stillness spread over groups of spectators. Admiration of the colorful changes in the heavens was mute and the people were over-awed by the spectacle.

Observations of the eclipse taken in this city, gave the first evidence that the sun has one element, coronium, that no other planet possesses.

A. B. & A. Employees Protest Reduction of Their Wages

REPORTED ALL TRAINS HAVE STOPPED

ATLANTA, Ga., March 5.—Approximately 1,500 of the 2,000 union employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railway, it was stated tonight, had gone on strike because of dissatisfaction with the order of February 28 for reduction of wages amounting to 50 per cent of increases since 1917.

An order was handed down today by Federal Judge Sibley stating that the wage reduction order would be given "no other or further effect than it ought to have by law under the facts which may be established at the hearing already set for March 26."

The wage reduction order was originally issued by the receiver for the road upon the authorization of Judge Sibley, after facts had been set before him to show that present wage scales were unwarranted in view of the road's financial condition. The men had claimed their views had not been adequately taken into consideration in reaching this decision.

At Fitzgerald, where the shops are, it was reported that all trains including those carrying mail, had come to a stop.

Centenary Revival

The revival services are deepening at Centenary church. This week has been marked by an increased interest on the part of Christian people. It has also been marked by a large attendance of persons who are not Christians and during the week a number have gone forward and made professions of religion.

Seven went forward at the services Friday night. One of the strong features of the meeting has been the prayer service at 7 o'clock preceding the services. While the song services are in progress and during the delivery of the sermon many remain in prayer in the men's class room. It is desired that any professing Christians interested in members of their own families or those of their friends, will be in this service. It will add to the spirit of the service in the main auditorium. This prayer service was largely attended Friday night.

The song services have been of an inspiring character under the leadership of Evangelist Linton. He has won a place in the good will of the singers and those attending the meetings. His solos are uplifting and his leadership is assuring to those who follow his leadership. Rev. D. V. Gowdy, the pastor of Centenary, is doing the preaching and his sermons have been of the kind that make men and women as well as children reflect on the greatest things of humanity destroy.

It is the desire of Evangelist Linton and Rev. Gowdy that all persons interested in a genuine old time revival may be present and take a part in these services. If the great question of human life has not been settled it is the prayer of all who are taking a part in the services that they should settle it now. This is expressed in the motto over the organ, "Get Right With God Tonight."

The services for tonight will be especially attractive. Evangelist Linton and Miss Clara Ranson will sing as a duet, "I Am Happy In Him." The sermon of the pastor will be especially appropriate to this occasion. If you are not present you will miss an inspiring service.

Sunday will be a full day. Last Sunday 300 were in the Sunday school. There should be more than that number in the morning. The regular services Sunday morning are always interesting and will be strongly evangelistic. Sunday afternoon Evangelist Linton will tell the interesting story of "Billy" Sims, a red-headed, freckled faced pug-nosed boy whose chief accomplishment was entertaining his schoolmates by wiggling his ears. This is a service for the parents and those who are thinking of a deeper spiritual life for their boys should not miss it.

Sunday evening the usual prayer services will be held in the men's class room at 7 o'clock, get in this service. The regular song services in the main auditorium will begin at 7:30. The chorus will be large and the music will be most uplifting. At this service Miss Clara Ranson and Evangelist Linton will sing, "When They Ring the Golden Bells For You and Me."

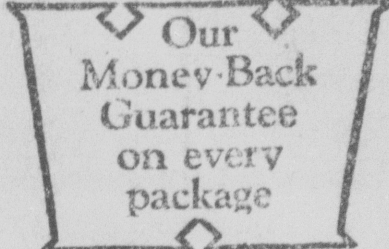

HOW MUCH CORN CAN A ROOSTER CONSUME?

How many grains of corn will a rooster eat in five days? If you can answer this question correctly, or come the nearest to it, J. H. Mallen and son will present you with a phonograph at the close of next week. This is one feature of the auto show, and is bound to be an interesting one. The rooster will be in the window of Mallen's establishment on South Sandy street from Monday morning until Saturday noon. The corn which he is to have during the five days will be placed in the window with him and the number of grains recorded. When the time is up the number of grains left in the window will be counted, and the difference will be the rooster's portion, and the number that will win the phonograph.

The fowl will of course have other food during the five days. He is of the Rhode Island Red variety. He has plenty of room to become fat, while eating for the amusement of the public.

Most employees were in favor of returning to their jobs Monday, it was said, when they learned the action of the Ottumwa employees.

FELTS SAID HE WAS GOING TO GET SOME MATEWAN OFFICIALS

This is Brought Out in Testimony at Trial Saturday

MINER SAYS FELTS FIRED FIRST SHOT

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., March 5.—That Albert C. Felts, of the Baldwin-Felts Detective Agency, in connection with whose death in the Matewan battle last May seventeen men are now being tried in Mingo county circuit court, had said he was going to "get" several Matewan officials, was the testimony of Miss Elizabeth Burgraff, sister of one of the defendants today.

The witness declared she had overheard Felts say he was "after" Hatfield, chief of police and a defendant, Mayor Testerman and Sheriff Blankenship, who has since left his office.

While employed at a hotel, Miss Burgraff said she saw the Baldwin-Felts detectives arming with rifles and it was to this time Felts was declared to have made the threat.

The fight started soon after the detectives had been evicted striking coal miners from Stone Mountain Coal company houses.

John Burt, a union miner testified he saw Felts fire the first shot of the battle, directed, he said, at the mayor. At the time Testerman and Hatfield were discussing a warrant for Felts' arrest.

Testimony was offered by two garage employees in an effort to show that Claire Overstreet, a defendant, had taken no part in the fight. They declared he hid under an automobile after the battle started and remained until hostilities had ceased. Some of the defendants will probably testify next week.

YOUNG BUT EXPERIENCED IN NEWSPAPER WORK

James Young of Rushville was in Jacksonville Saturday for a few hours' visit with friends. He is one of the youngest newspapermen in the state, for altho he is but seventeen years of age, he has for the past five years been actively associated with the editorial, business and mechanical departments of one of the Rushville papers. His liking for newspaper work is such that every bit of the time he can spare from his school duties is spent around the newspaper office and so he has had as much experience in the work of a weekly publication as usually comes to a man of 25 years. Needless to say, he is intending to make newspaper publishing his life work and has a course mapped out at the University of Illinois.

Mr. Young's father is one of the most prominent bankers and business men of Schuyler county. His mother before her marriage was Miss Frances Patterson, daughter of J. March Patterson, long a resident of Jacksonville.

KING PITFALLS FOR THE GOLFERS

Louis Groundkeeper Getting Ready Amateur Golf Tournament Next Summer—Could furnish Infinite Variety of Play.

St. Louis, Mar. 5.—Diggers of the unwary golfer begin work today on the picture links of the St. Louis Country Club, which will be the scene of the amateur golf championship of the United States. Golf officials, to add a few touches to the severe test already provided by the course for every shot from driver to putter.

The links, occupying 250 acres formerly known as the Farm of the Seven Hills, has the distinction of being the only course in the world that is entirely panoramic. A paved road winds around and thru the property in such a way as to afford a view of the play on every hole from a car. Even the long 13th hole, which lies two fair ways from the road, tilts toward the highway so that the play on the greensward can be seen. The drive winds in such a way that one need not even turn around to keep pace with the golfers, but may follow them stroke by stroke from the first tee to the 18th green.

While Stewart Maiden, the club professional has a bevy of men at work already, due to the open winter, the course has need of only a few small pits to make extra hazardous a couple of greens that had been well protected by natural life of the land. But these greens could be won by a vicious top up a hillside; and it was to compel a cut pitch shot that the work was undertaken.

Perhaps no golf links in the country has so much individuality in all 18 holes or possesses 18 holes with no two alike. An infinite variety of play is furnished. Even the drives are never the same if the player aims to take advantage of the topography to add him in getting his second shot home by skill. A golfer who plays the course once can readily remember each hole for the rare sport it furnishes on account of some unique feature.

Th links was laid out 8 years ago under the direction of C. B. McDonald, now a broker in New York, who with Douglas Tweedie planned the first golf course west of New York many years ago. Nestled in the shrubbery surrounding the magnificent, mission style club house, which overlooks the links of the seven hills, is a stone settee, inscribed to Mr. McDonald. Sitting on this bench, one can look over the rolling country to the forested foothills of the Ozark mountains, many miles away. A plaza along the south side of the club house overlooks a polo field of generous dimensions, while some artistic landscape gardening has made a floral decked garden of the grounds for some distance around the building.

Hills, valleys, forest, creeks, lagoons, even precipices and a touch of marshland comprise some of the native characteristics of the links. All these have been taken full advantage of in making the course an endless test of golfing skill, gruelling but never tiresome.

ENGLISH PRESS PRAISES SPEECH OF NEW PRESIDENT

Look For More Cordial Relations Between England and U. S.

BELIEVE DOOM OF LEAGUE ANNOUNCED

LONDON, March 5.—President Harding and his inaugural address are the subject of congratulatory and good will in the English press this morning. The newspapers display satisfaction in the attitude of the United States toward the league of nations.

The Daily Mail says President Harding is a man who may be trusted to make good use of his great power. The Morning Post expresses the belief that with the inauguration of Mr. Harding the outlook for present and future relations between the United States and Great Britain were never more pleasant or more hopeful.

The Post finds in Mr. Harding's policy of non-involvement in European affairs a natural maintenance of the principle on which the American constitution is founded and which does not exclude the preservation of peace.

The address of Mr. Harding is regarded by the Post as virtually announcing the doom of the league of nations. It declares there can be no effective league without the United States as a member.

The Daily News declares it is able to say nothing but "amen" to President Harding's refusal to enter alliances and his aspirations for peace and disarmament. It regrets, however, that he leaves his attitude toward the league of nations indeterminate.

Miss Lottie Bartholomew of Bluffs spent yesterday in the city shopping.

CURSE OF TWO HUNDRED YEARS AGO FULFILLED

Ancient Prophecy of Destruction of Kaskaskia Has Come to Pass—Legend Intertwined with Story of an Indian's Love.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 5.—For forty years, since the waters of the Mississippi river washed away the last vestige of Kaskaskia, the first capital of Illinois, leaving a narrow island of rich alluvial soil at the mercy of the stream the superstitious have seen in the gradual destruction of "The Narrows" fulfillment of the prophecy of an old Indian legend wound about the story of an Indian's love for a white woman.

When a tall, handsome young chief of the Kaskaskian Indians placed a curse upon the lake 200 years ago Kaskaskia was a peninsula at the junction of the Kaskaskia and Mississippi rivers. In 1481 Nature violently demolished her handiwork at the former outpost of civilization and Kaskaskia was ravaged by flood. The peninsula was cut away, leaving a remnant of the old town on the island, which is gradually disappearing. When the last trace of land has sunk beneath the waters and the phantom streets of the old trading post are on the muddy bottom in the center of the Mississippi, the "Curse of Kaskaskia" will have been fulfilled in the last detail. The young chief prophesied the total destruction of the village within 200 years.

Jean Benard came from France in 1698, with his wife and 10-year old daughter, Marie, so the legend runs. They settled in Kaskaskia. Marie blossomed into maidenhood and her beauty in the full bloom of womanhood was famous. A young chief of the Kaskaskians, converted by Jesuits and educated, went to Kaskaskia, and set himself up as a trader. He prospered.

One night at a ball the young chief met Marie Benard. The girl was fascinated with him and with the Indian it was love at first sight. Benard pere was displeased. He forbade his daughter to communicate with the Indian, used his influence to have the young chief ostracised from society, forced him out of business and out of town.

A year passed. At a fete one winter night Marie disappeared. Marie and her Indian lover were trailed by a posse led by Benard. Forty miles from Kaskaskia, in the direction of the settlement of St. Louis, the pair was overtaken. Taking the Indian down to the river, Benard lashed him to a log and turned him adrift. As the Kaskaskian floated down the river to his death he cursed Benard and predicted the father of his sweet-heart would die a violent death. His last words, so the legend goes, were that within 200 years the waters which were bearing him away would sweep from the earth every vestige of the town.

Marie died in a convent. Benard was killed in a duel in 1712. The last trace of Kaskaskia has been obliterated and the island, which was once part of the peninsula, is being gradually washed away.

Illinois U. Athletes Get Most of Honors

URBANA, Ill., March 5.—Athletic stars of the University of Illinois carried off the lion's share of honors in the fourth renewal of the relay carnival staged under the auspices of the University here tonight. Four carnival records were smashed and two were tied. The carnival drew a record breaking list of entries. There were 349 athletes from 43 universities and colleges in the competition.

The first record to be equalled was in the two mile university relay which Illinois won in 8:08 4-5. Ames tied the carnival record for the Medley relay equalling the record of 8:24 established by Georgetown last year.

Record Go by Board.

Records were shattered in the running high jump, the intercollegiate mile relay, the four mile relay and the one mile relay. Walker of Michigan, Paige of Ames and Alberts of Illinois tied for the new record of 6 feet 3-4 inch jump while the Oak Park High school team set a new mark of 3:40 in winning the one mile intercollegiate relay. Illinois lowered the four mile relay mark to 18:40 at 3-5 and the crack Pennsylvania quartet established a new record of 6:29 in winning the one mile university relay.

Six sprinters were sent away to an perfect start, but Deering pulled away in the last five yards, winning by six inches. The time of .08 was two fifths of a second slower than the record for the carnival.

Nebraska scored its second victory when Wright, winner of the high hurdles in the Western conference meet last season, broke the tape in the 75 yard high hurdle in .10. Anderson of Minnesota pulled up in second place and Wynn of Notre Dame third.

The shot put went to Shaw of Notre Dame with a heave of 43 feet, 6 inches, while Westbrook of Michigan took the pole vault, clearing the bar at 12 feet 1-4 inches.

Ames Takes Medley Relay.

The well balanced Ames team won the Medley relay after a spirited contest with Purdue and

Illinois. ## MAY MAKE PLACE ON U. OF I. BALL TEAM

William Miller in List Coach Zupke Is Trying Out for Foot Ball Squad.

William Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Miller, of this city, is a student at the University of Illinois and, according to the University paper, is one of the line men that Coach Zupke is developing in the spring football practice. Miller had his first football training at the Jacksonville high school and then made good on the Illinois college team. That he is a strong player is given certain proof by his selection from thousands of students for university team lineups. The following is taken from the University paper:

"Under Coach Zupke's driving tutelage, spring football practice is getting under way with more pep and real earnestness than has ever before been exhibited this early in the year. The routine work consists in signal running, blocking, punting and general elementary preparation.

The squad numbers 65 men, among whom is practically the entire Freshman varsity squad, and several new arrivals with a lot of promise, who will fill up the holes in Zupke's line of graduation.

"Grid Games This Week-End"—The men have been divided into two squads to permit closer coaching, and a little variety is given to the routine by a game between the two on Friday and Saturday afternoon.

Thus far all injuries have been of a minor nature due, no doubt, to the attempt to develop speed rather than any heavy work.

"In the backfield Natcott, Clark, Dawson, Majors, Woodward are showing especially well and have the earmarks of good material.

Among the linemen, Graham, Greene, Miller, Gamage, Spears, Wickhorst and Weller have given the most promise of developing into valuable men.

Andy Harris and F. E. Drury were city arrivals from Orleans yesterday.

Your shoes aren't always to blame for tired feet! Shoe comfort depends so much on the condition of your feet. First correct the cause of that pain in your feet, then see how good your shoes will feel.

TELEPHONE COMPANY ASKS ANOTHER BOOST

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company has challenged the action of the city of Kankakee in asking for a reduction of telephone rates before the Illinois Public Utilities Commission.

As a counter move, the telephone company has filed a petition with the Public Utilities Commission asking for still another increase over the rates now in effect. The company seeks to increase the individual business phone rate from $5.25 per month to $7 and the individual residence phone rate from $2.75 to $3.25. On two-party business lines the company wants the present rate of $4.50 increased to $6.00. On two-party residence phones, it asks the present rate of $2.25 be boosted to $2.75. On four-party residence phones, the company seeks a monthly increase of 25 cents. On extension telephones the company asks an increase of 25 cents for both business and residence uses—Kankakee Republican.

John Triebwasser Shot Down and Killed By Willis Gannells On Street In Virginia.

Virginia, March 5. — Willis Gannells, who this morning shot and killed John Triebwasser, was bound over to the grand jury and held without bail. Gannells must therefore face a murder charge when the Cass county circuit court convenes. The shooting occurred about 10:30 o'clock this morning in the outskirts of the town and was said to be the result of a disagreement over the settlement of a small estate in which both were interested. The men were brothers-in-law.

Triebwasser was driving near the home of Gannells when the latter appeared armed with a shot gun and without warning discharged both barrels at the man in the wagon. Death was almost instantaneous. Immediately after the shooting Gannells walked into the office of Sheriff George W. Farrar and surrendered.

According to stories Triebwasser and Gannells had various disagreements in the last several years and their latest trouble was over the settlement of property belonging to their mother-in-law, the late Mrs. Mary Harding a one time resident of Morgan county.

Triebwasser who was about sixty years of age, is survived by his wife. For a long period he conducted a barber shop in Virginia but more recently had been the owner of a small poultry farm. Gannells, who is about forty years of age, has a wife and three children. He is a cement contractor and recently moved back from Ashland, Mo., to Cass County.

As indicated, the coroner's inquest was held this afternoon by Coroner Saunders of Beardstown in the office of the circuit clerk in Virginia. The verdict was that Triebwasser came to his death by a gun shot wound, the weapon fired by Willis Gannells. The jury included Dr. J. A. McGee, foreman; William Sudbrink, R. Wankle, Jule Darling and Peter Collins.

LODGE RE-ELECTED WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Washington, March 5.—Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and other Republican officers of the senate organization, were re-elected today without opposition. The Republicans again chose Senator Cummins, of Iowa, for president pro tempore, of the senate, and Senator Curtis, of Kansas, for assistant leader and party whip. Committee assignments were left to the committee on committees.

Senate committees are to be reduced under new senate rules, and the Democrats will suffer the most. No changes in senate chairmanships are planned.

There is much rivalry for the vacancy on the foreign relations committee, created by the appointment of Senator Fall, of New Mexico, to the cabinet. Senators Kellogg, of Minnesota; McCormick, of Illinois, and Poindexter, of Washington, are the chief candidates, with the chances reported to favor the latter.

"Grave" was subject of a toast by Ada Clotfelter, Helena Betcher had "Allegro" for her topic. Diven Leach spoke on "Scherzo" and Mary Whiteside had the "Grand Finale."

Among former society members who were present at the banquet were Letha Bunting, Myra Kirkpatrick, May Whiteside, Lois Carpenter, Mary McGhee, Lucile Reaost, Ha Alton, Mrs. Gretchen Avery, Zay Wright, Gladys Corby, Eunice Leonard and Grace Hosenbust.

AUTO SHOW AND EXPOSITION OPENS MONDAY

H. Z. AUTO INN HAS BEEN TRANSFORMED FOR THIS BIG EVENT

Exposition is Most Ambitious Effort That Has Even Been Attempted in This City—Will Be Open Each Afternoon and Evening for Entire Week—No Admission Charged

Jacksonville's first real automobile show will open tomorrow afternoon at the H. Z. Auto Inn on East Court street and will continue until next Saturday night at midnight. Every afternoon and evening this exhibit which auto dealers and other merchants generally have combined to make possible will be open to the public absolutely free. People young and old from Jacksonville and all the surrounding territory are most cordially invited to attend not once but every day for the exhibit merits more than a passing inspection.

A visit to the Auto Inn yesterday gave proof of the fact that nothing has been spared in the effort to make this an event of which Jacksonville can well be proud. The decorations are of a most artistic kind and the space for the various exhibitors are arranged in a way to do credit to a much larger city. It was announced last night that arrangements had just been completed for a double vaudeville program nightly and music by an orchestra from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock.

A Boost for City.

The show plans are recognized as a big boost for Jacksonville and community. Thousands of persons are expected to visit the show headquarters during next week. To attend the show does not mean that a person has to inspect cars with the intention of buying. Everyone will be welcome whether sightseers or prospective automobile owners.

As was stated some time ago, surrounding towns have been "billed like a circus was coming." A number of car dealers in the county towns are boosting the show. It is hoped the out-of-town attendance will equal that of the city.

The affair is considered the first annual event of the kind, as all indications point to success. A big attendance and lots of interest this year will insure another big show for the city in 1922.

Officers and members of the Automotive Dealer's association are working as one man to put the show over in grand style. To allow citizens to know who is directly responsible for the show plans, a list of the officers, directors and members of the Jacksonville Automotive Dealer's association is given:

ber of leading merchants are just as much interested in the affair as the automobile men. Every foot of available space has been reserved by business men, who will maintain exhibits during the week. A combination of automobiles and merchandise stock is expected to furnish an exhibition that will be a drawing card to persons for miles around.

Plans for the first annual show and exposition were launched some time ago. A story of the decision of the Jacksonville Automotive Dealers' association was printed in the local newspapers. J. H. Wilkinson, an automobile show and exposition director, was riding on a train headed into St. Louis when he saw that Jacksonville was considering a show. He immediately came here, and was engaged by the local men to direct the show, and attend to details such as selling space, decorating and ad-vertising.

Wilkinson has been here almost a month. He has shown the Jack-sonville dealers that he knows what he is about. He has ten years experience in the automobile show busi-ness, and has put on similar attrac-tions in cities many times larger than Jacksonville.

What You'll See.

Saturday was a very busy day at the Auto Inn, which is admirably constructed for show purposes. Use of the big garage was donated to the Automotive association by Howard Zahn, the owner. It is generally known that this building is one of the largest in the state outside of Chicago, and therefore offers advan-tages that other cities have to do without.

Now as for what you'll see when you attend the show. Later by the way of the office, in the office will be a typical show car in a large frame, a car which Mr. Zahn has decorated especially for the coming event. It is covered with fabric and a distinctly attracts attention. The office of the show will be maintained in the front part of the Auto Inn together with an information bu-reau.

On the floors of both the east and west sides of the Auto Inn you will see at least seventy-five automobiles of all makes and models. There will be the exhibits of the merchants and all kinds of automobile access-ories displays.

Automobile representatives of Chi-cago and St. Louis have been in touch with their agents here, and are co-operating in furnishing show ma-terials. The merchants are busy with their exhibits. There will be plenty to see.

The car dealers and merchants realize that the affair needs to be lived up to. So they have seen to it that music has been provided. Dur-ing the week there will be other en-tertainment features.

Wonderful Decorations.

Decorations will be one of the striking features of the show. They have been placed and constructed un-der the supervision of Mr. Wilkinson. Objects were cars are displayed will be of the same type as seen in the big city shows.

Each dealer has one space for all time during the show. A large sign above will point out "Who's Who." The booth limits are to be large pedestals, highly decorated, with ar-tistic arches. These enclosures for the booths have been especially made in Jacksonville. The arches will be draped with the show colors, purple and gold, and twined with natural smilax. This vine will be used ex-tensively over the show rooms.

Overhead and on the walls will be both national and show colors. Hun-dreds of streamers have been pro-vided.

The biggest feature of the decora-tions will be the colored electric lights. At night the garage will be a brilliant blaze of beautiful shades. Red, green, blue and yellow rays of light will fall over the automob-iles and the crowd. Many Japanese lanterns will also be used in bright-ening up the place.

They See Success.

Indications are that the show will prove an attraction for a large ra-ge around Jacksonville, according to J. F. Claus, president of the local as-sociation. "We couldn't ask for bet-ter support on the part of the mem-bers and business men," Mr. Claus stated today. "If cooperation means anything in an undertaking like this, the show and exposition certainly will be popular."

Wilkinson, the show director, is proving everything he represented to the dealer's association and more. He draws on long experience in his work to make the Auto Inn as an attrac-tive place as can be imagined. He is doing several things in decoration that contracts do not specify, much to the beautification of the place.

"I've never seen car dealers and business men more willing to help out," the director said this morning. "I've put on a lot of shows and ex-posed to handle a whole lot more, but I'll say that for a first attempt at an automobile show, Jacksonville is going above the standard. If the at-tendance compares to the rest of the show, then we'll have a show here like you'd expect in a city four or five times the size."

AIRPLANE WILL TAKE PLACE OF ZEPPELIN

Giant Craft Will Be Driven by Six Twelve-Cylinder Engines—Lifting Capacity Will Be 65,000 Pounds.

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, March 5.—The army will have an airship capable of carrying 100 passengers, in ad-dition to the crew, when the great Italian semi-rigid dirigible "Roma," recently purchased, arrives. An air service detachment is en-route to Italy to deflate the big bag and bring it home on ship board.

The "Roma," driven by six twelve-cylinder engines, develop-ing an aggregate of 2,400 horse-power, has a lifting capacity of 65,000 pounds. She can carry nearly nineteen tons through the air, in addition to herself and her crew at an estimated maximum speed of 80 miles an hour. The big gas bag holding 1,200,000 cu-bic feet of gas, is longer than all but most modern war craft, 410 feet, and is 82 feet wide while bag and car tower to a height of 86 feet, 6 inches.

With filled gasoline tanks the ship has a full speed radius of 350 miles, and at cruising speed could go 800 miles without landing.

The "Roma" was constructed under personal supervision of Sig-nor (Luigi), whose name has been applied to aircraft of that particu-lar type. She was designed for commercial uses, originally, but was sold to the United States for $200,000. It would cost $1,500,000 to duplicate her, experts fig-ure.

KEROSENE TAKING GASOLINE'S PLACE

"It is interesting to note," said Gay Hutson of the Hutson Bros. Automobile company, "that recent changes at the Automotive Shows have more than justified all the claims that the Chalmers factory claimed for their Hot Spot and Rams Horn Manifold when they first announced these two important features of carbura-tion two years ago."

"There was less than 2 per-cent of the automobiles at the Chicago show," said Mr. Willis, had imitated in some way the principal of the Chalmers Hot Spot and in some few cases the Rams Horn Manifold. Some of them were merely additions of hot air to the Intake Manifold, some of them were hot water but the Chalmers Hot Spot retained its superiority due to hav-ing the heat applied against the Hot Spot in the same manner that you would hold a gasoline blow torch against same. It was a common question at the Chi-cago show to hear asked of a booth representative what kind of a Hot Spot was placed on the motor shown."

Mr. Hutson says "as gasoline keeps going lower and lower in grade the public is beginning to realize that there is a reason for plugs becoming fouled and the gasoline mileage dropping off. And as it is becoming widely known that the Chalmers Car does not have either of these two troubles nor does it ever collect any gasoline in the motor crank case that the Chalmers factory has really overcome this, so prevalent trouble and today Prince Automobile company is reap-ing the benefit from a large number of Chalmers sales."

Mr. Hutson stated the Hot Spot was so efficient that kero-sene was being used regularly by a large number of Chalmers own-ers.

BLUE LAWS WOULD UNITE CHURCH AND STATE

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—In-terment of "blue laws" is the first step toward the reuniting of church and state, in the opinion of the Rev. William H. Holden, president of the Illinois Con-ference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

The Rev. Mr. Holden declares that many members of his church have been fined and drawn into jail for quietly working on Sunday and observing Saturday as the day of rest.

"Some people would have us be-lieve that Sunday laws are not reli-gious," the president of the illi-nois Adventists said, "but no Sun-day law can be enacted or drafted which is not religious."

"The very fact that such a law forbids acts upon the first day of the week which are not wrong in themselves, but are merely con-sidered wrong because done on Sunday, shows that the law is in-tended to protect the day, not to prohibit a wrong act."

WILL VOTE ON BIG SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(By A. P.)—A special election has been called by the school board of this district for March 10 at which time a school bond issue of $200,000 will be voted upon.

The purpose of the proposed is-sue is to replace a school that burned down here recently and to build another, which is badly needed, because of the congestion in the prairie schools, accord-ing to W. J. Spaulding, city com-missioner of public works.

ARISTOCRACY OF OLD RUSSIA IS NOW LIVING IN HOVELS

Peeling Potatoes and Chop-ping Wood For Living

PRINCESS CONDUCTS SOUP KITCHEN

(By The Associated Press)

MARSAW, March 5.—Driven from palace to hovel, some of the members of the aristocracy of old Russia now are peeling potatoes or chopping wood here for a liv-ing.

Five thousand men and women and children some of whose re-sounding titles once brought them homage of courtiers are clustered here after having fled to Poland before the Bolsheviks. Helping them to help themselves is Madame Lubinoff, herself a refugee, the born a princess of one of the oldest Russian houses and the wife of the former civil governor of Warsaw.

This remarkable woman is conducting soup kitchens, sew-ing rooms and workshops for men and taking orders from her men who once commanded the armed forces of the Russian Em-peror. On her staff are ad-mirals, generals, governors, mayors and members of the old Petrograd court, while her hus-band has laid aside his gubernatorial duties to become her secre-tary.

A beautiful woman, she hides the tragedy of her life under an optimism that is an example to the unhappy folk to whom she ministers. A woman of action, too, for she escaped from Petro-grad with her two sons after free-ing her husband from the fortress of Peter and Paul and saving him with a fictitious pas-sport that enabled him to flee to Warsaw. Here the family was reunited.

Organizes Red Cross Branch

Selling virtually all she pos-sessed to aid her fellow-country-men, Mme. Lubinoff, organized the Warsaw branch of the Rus-sian Red Cross, which is being aided by the American organiza-tion.

Sparing not herself, Madame Lubinoff has not spared the col-ony of refugees which included many of the former Russian nobility. In the soup kitchen and wood yard which she has estab-lished in a Russian orthodox church at 5 Powdla—a squalid property placed at her disposal—she works men and women of title at tasks which once serv-ants performed for them.

In the dinky little courtyard General Oblonsky, formerly ar-chitect at the Russian court, chops wood for a living with sev-eral officers of the crack guards, one of whom has lost his reason and is being watched. In a small and dirty building, Prince Mes-schersky, who was master of cer-emonies at the Imperial court peels potatoes for his daily bread.

In the crowded rooms the meals are served by women of the Russian nobility. Princess Rukoff, the widow of Admiral Rukoff who was executed by the Bolsheviks; Ouchtomsky, whose husband was reputed one of the richest men in Petrograd and is now cashier in the next room at 4,000 Polish marks a month, the equivalent of $4 today, and Mad-mame Koudrawsky, widow of the vice-Mayor of Petrograd who was put to death by the Red revolu-tionists.

Colonel Runs Errands.

Colonel Guards of the Im-perial Russian Guard, of the rank of Colonel, Madame Lubinoff and refugees who collapse from ex-haustion while waiting for their food are attended by Mlle. Car-gessoff, a former wealthy resident of Petrograd, now a nurse.

Working in an American Red Cross warehouse are 20 officers of the Imperial Guards regiment headed by M. Rickschensky, a lawyer of Kiev, who arrived in the Polish capital without under-clothing or footwear. He said his sister had been killed this winter by the Bolsheviks and that the capital of Ukraine had be-come a city of the dead.

Madame Lubinoff boasts a storehouse about the size of an American housewife's pantry, which is in charge of Michael Shramchenko, the son of the gov-ernor of Tchernoff, who was killed by the Bolsheviks. The assistant storekeeper is Victor Borenko, who was governor of Novgorod.

PASSED EXAMINATION.

A number of the eighth grade pupils of the Oak Hill school passed the central examinations recently. They were: Harriet Dobson, Agnes Garvin, Alma Connolly, Harlan Doyle, Francis Doyle, Ralph White and Roy Thady. Oak Hill school is situ-ated a short distance west of Murrayville.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lake and daughter, Frances, spent Sat-urday in the city visiting with friends.

ENGLISH ARE NOT SPENDING MONEY

Fashionable Restaurant Keepers Say They Are Not Buying Cham-pagne These Days — Price Is Too High.

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 5.—Proprietors of fashionable West End ho-tels and restaurants are bewailing the slump in their receipts, which they declare has taken place.

"We have the same number of people dining each night," said the manager of one of the best known restaurants, "but our re-ceipts are 50 per cent below those of a year ago. The difference," he added, "is chiefly a matter of wine. During the war, and be-fore the war, it was customary for a small party here to have a mag-num of champagne. Now they are satisfied with a bottle of Cha-blis or some other wine which costs much less than champagne."

"Apart from the greater ex-pense," said a famous bon vivant, "it must be admitted that dining out is not as pleasant as it used to be. The restaurants where there used to be refinement and charm, not only in the surroundings, but in the people themselves, have been invaded by a new type of din-er."

"The conversation and behavior of these new clients have rather vulgarized some of the best res-taurants and the old frequenters prefer to dine at their homes or at their clubs. Two nights ago I saw a man in what used to be one of the most fashionable and refined of London restaurants dining with his seriette tucked all around his collar. That sort of thing rather spoils the charm of dining out for patrons of the old school."

"As far as the best brands of champagne are concerned, the sale is dead," said the head of a large firm of wine merchants in Pall Mall. "We are selling very little champagne to our private custom-ers, who are instead drinking port, sherry, Marsala and claret. Peo-ple cannot afford champagne. They could when it could be had at from eight to nine shillings a bottle, but what with increased taxes and high prices—generally, they fight shy of paying 16 to 20 shillings for a bottle which is now demanded for them."

1921 SETTLING PERIOD IN AUTO INDUSTRY

"1921 is going to be a sort of settling period in the motor car business," says T. E. Jarrard, vice-president, Apperson Bros. Automobile Co., Kokomo, Indi-ana. "Not so much probably for the manufacturers as for the dealers."

"Too many dealers have been spoiled. The past year of course they have had no sales problems to work out. It has been too easy going you might say. The outlook for the future is different. Not so much the outlook for results because good automobiles will find a market, but the outlook must be exerted in an entirely different channel."

"Why is it that so many are attracted to the automobile busi-ness thinking that it is a business that can be carried on in the 'loose method' manner. This I never could understand. The automobile business is no differ-ent than any other business and must be handled accordingly."

Conditions during the next year will better this situation. The more conservative type of business man is going to be at-tracted which will not only result in a more close relationship be-tween our owners and representa-tives with whom we have placed our interests but will also bring about a greater co-operative relationship between dealer and factory."

"This condition must exist if either of us are to make a suc-cess."

The Apperson will be shown at the Auto Show in this city by Rexroat & Deppe.

WANTS TO IMPORT JAPANESE BUTTERFLIES

TOKIO, March 5.—(Correspon-dence of The Associated Press.)

The Yokohama Chamber of Com-merce has received a request from a Boston importer to be put in touch with some exporter of Ja-panese butterflies, so that he may secure not only the complete but-terfly, "dried and in perfect con-dition," for collectors and ento-mologists, but a few shipments of the gold from butterflies' wings, to be used as gold dust and for gold paint.

Japan, before the war, did con-siderable export business with Sweden in butterflies, while one variety of the gaudy insects com-mon in Formosa had a particularly large quantity of gold dust as a part of its wing embellishment.

LITTLE INTEREST OVER PRIMARY

Monmouth, Ill., March 5. (By A. P.)—The Monmouth mayoralty election takes place Apr. 16. There are no special issues involved and great difficulty was experienced by party leaders in securing stand-ard bearers. Dr. W. J. Giltner and Chester Smith are the candidates. Ex-service men are candidates for aldermen in several wards.

CONVENTION WILL TRY TO ELIMINATE TRANSIT PROBLEMS

Conference of Communications at Barcelona Will Have Big Task Confronting It—Will Lay Basis for Permanent Organization to Deal With Question of Transportation

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The chief task of the International conference on Communications and Transit, which will be held at Barcelona, Spain on March 10, will be to draw up a series of international conventions intended to eliminate some of the difficulties and restrictions which now hamper international transportation of passengers and freight. These conventions, which are to be submitted to the na-tions of the world for ratification, are expected to deal with international transportation both by railroads and navigable waterways and to define also the rights of land-locked nations to have access to seaports.

AMERICAN ENGINEER TELLS OF FAMINE

Thirty Thousand Die on Bare Fields Outside Tientsin—Mil-lions Will Die Despite Aid.

(By The Associated Press)

New York, March 5.—Thirty thousand Chinese gathered on a great bare field outside Tientsin, China, waited patiently for food which never arrived and then slowly died there, E. S. Glines, American engineer, reported upon his arrival here after passing six months in the famine stricken areas of North China.

The condition of the starving hordes was so pitiful, Mr. Glines said, that he "did not have the heart to take photographs of such misery." He said that the crowd at Tientsin had gathered because they believed food would reach them there more quickly than in the country. Along a roadside near a field, he told of seeing the bodies of a whole family—father, mother and five children—each a few yards apart, where they had dropped and died.

"The crop failures have been al-most complete in the five great provinces that make up the north-ern part of China proper—Chihli, Shantung, Shensi, Shensi and Honan," said Mr. Glines. "This is the part of the country around Peking, south of Mongolia and Manchuria."

Explaining why the sections of China not stricken by famine were unable to relieve the starvation dis-tresses, Mr. Glines said: "China is largely an agricultural nation. Ninety per cent of the population lives on tiny farms into which the country is divided. The Chinese work their land to the limit but they cannot raise more than enough to feed themselves. Each district can raise barely enough food to support its own people. That is why the 'prosperous' provinces have been able to do so lit-tle for the famine-stricken ones. They have not the food to send."

"The crops in North China have failed since 1919. The people have been unable to get more than scraps of food from other parts of China. They have been unable to get much from outside because food has been high priced all over the world. They have tried to move to better districts where they could raise crops but such districts are so rare and they have had poor resources that they have died like flies on the way."

"There is no question that more than 10,000,000 Chinese will starve to death this spring unless food is rushed to them." He de-clared that millions will die de-spite aid, that the population of 45,000,000 in the famine districts is in such dire straits that it will be a physical impossibility to rush enough food to them to save all.

Great irrigation projects, con-trol of flood producing streams, and improvement of transportation were cited by Mr. Glines as the only salvation of the agricultural and economic life of China.

"These things will be done in time," he said, "for China is awake. America will probably have a big part in this future of China, but we must lay aside these things for the present and devote every effort to getting food to the starv-ing millions."

Bloomington, Ill., March 5.—In a public statement issued here, M. E. Ryan urges:

A Southern housewife says that one reason why more corn bread is not eaten is because it is made Northern style.

HARDING PROUD OF NEWSPAPER TRAINING

Always Classifies Himself as Editor, Publisher and Printer—Lack of a Printer's Rule Carried Wherever He Goes.

WASHINGTON, March 4. — Whatever else he may be, Warren G. Harding always classifies himself as an editor, publisher and printer, proud of his professional accomplishments and training. His lack of a printer's rule, carried in his pocket wherever he goes, and his close friends say he would rather set a stick of type any day than grant an audience to an ambassador.

For more than thirty years Mr. Harding's bread and butter has been earned by the Marion Star, whose responsibilities he assumed under heavy mortgage and whose early years he nourished at the expense of going hungry more than once himself. Since his nomination for the presidency he has faced only one public ordeal that aroused emotions he could not master. That was the temporary severance of the ties that bind him to the Star. On election night, when a group of his employees came to congratulate him, his voice broke and his big frame was shaken by sobs when he undertook to speak of the separation that must be the price of his triumph.

Election day was Mr. Harding's fifty-first birthday, and all the interests of his lifetime had been rooted in the immediate vicinity of Marion. He was born at Blooming Grove, O., in an adjoining county, the son of a country doctor, George T. Harding, who still visits his patients about Marion in the one-horse carriage of the old-school practitioner. The new president's mother has been dead for many years and his father is re-married.

Young Harding attended college at Iberia, O., and then tried school teaching for a year before he began his newspaper career. Always a partisan and a Republican, he lost his job as a reporter by wearing in the presence of his Democratic editor a "Blaine hat," the stove-pipe of which was a badge of support of James G. Blaine.

Although it was a pioneer newspaper, Mr. Harding's mind ran to progressive notions even in the day when the Star was still a liability. He broke with his first partner over the question of installing a telephone in the newspaper office, a suggestion which the partner held to be impractical, extravagant and revolutionary. Although he retains a controlling financial interest in the Star, now a successful newspaper, Mr. Harding will occupy but a titular relationship to it during his presidency.

Three times before he has held public office. He served in the Ohio legislature and as lieutenant governor of the state and six years ago he was elected to the U. S. Senate, where he became a member of the foreign relations committee. In 1916 he was chairman of the Republican national convention.

In personal appearance the new president is a man to attract a second look in any crowd. He carries his two hundred and ten pounds without a hint of obesity, although he is not quite six feet tall, and his massive features round out an impression of force and distinction. His hair is iron grey—almost silver-grey—making sharp contrast with the unusually heavy eyebrows that almost mask a pair of calm grey eyes. It is only in repose that his face takes on the aspect of severity seen so often in his photographs. When he talks or listens the lines are broken by a smile that radiates cordiality.

President Harding walks slowly, talks slowly, and makes up his mind slowly, but he gives the impression of polished deliberation rather than of over-caution or abashment. He is a good conversationalist and a good listener and has a faculty of getting through embarrassing situations with little show of embarrassment.

As an orator, Mr. Harding never has rated himself as witty or eloquent, though he attained considerable success a few years ago on the Chautauqua platform. He seldom attempts fine word pictures or humorous passages, but cultivates a deliberate, unembellished utterance.

He never gives the impression of stilted dignity. He likes to know men well enough to call them by their first names and slap them on the back when he meets them. He likes to shake hands and make conversation about the weather and the crops, and when he does he usually lapses into the vernacular of an Ohio countryman.

It is Mr. Harding's affability that has made for officials close to him some of their hardest problems. He never likes to refuse an audience or to terminate a conference until his visitor has talked himself out. On his first campaign trip his managers ruled that time and endurance would not permit him to appear at wayside stations, but after the train had whizzed past the first waiting crowd he ordered that a stop be made wherever the people had come out expecting to see him.

The new president is unusually fond of children, though he has none of his own. He is a life-long Baptist and a trustee of his home church in Marion. He has been a member of the Elk and Moose fraternities for years, and since his election to the presidency has become a thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner. Golf is his favorite recreation and he likes to fish, but does not hunt. He plays hard and possesses the faculty of putting all his worries out of his mind during vacation hours.

Of all the presidents, Mr. Harding's close friends liken him most often to McKinley, with whom he has in common a predominant passion for obliteration of class and sectional lines.

By Associated Press. Washington, March 5.—Upwards of 50,000 appointments to public offices carrying salaries aggregating more than $100,000,000 a year are to be made by President Harding. Some of these were made Friday, many others will be announced during the next few months while still others will be made as the terms of present Democratic office holders expire.

ing of the official "plum" tree were cabinet officers whose salaries are $12,000 a year each. Others to come include nearly a dozen ambassadors whose salaries are $17,500 each, many ministers at $10,000 each, assistant secretaries, federal judges, attorneys and marshals, customs collectors, members of various government boards and commissions and postmasters by the thousands.

In contrast to the huge patronage roll of Mr. Harding are the appointive perquisites of Vice-President Coolidge, whose immediate appointments comprise only his secretary, clerk, page boy and a private telegraph operator. Their salaries total $7,700 a year. The Vice-President himself receives $12,000.

As is the usual custom, ambassadors and ministers now serving are expected to present their resignations to President Harding immediately so he may have a free hand in creating his own diplomatic crop. There are 44 ambassadors and ministers but some of these who have risen from the ranks in the diplomatic service may be retained and practically all of those now in service will continue in office until their successors are named. Among ambassadorships regarded as certain to be filled by Mr. Harding are those to Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain, Japan, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, Argentina and Peru. Many new ministers also are to be appointed and when full relations are reestablished with Germany, Austria, Mexico, Turkey and Bulgaria appointments also will be made to those countries.

Among ministers now holding office who have come up from the ranks in diplomatic service are William Phillips, at The Hague; Gibson, at Warsaw; Richard Crane, at Prague; Joseph G. Grew, at Copenhagen; Peter Augustus Jay, at Salvador; Hoffman Philip, at Bogota, Colombia, and Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, at Port-Au-Prince, Haiti.

Among appointments an immediate or early prospect are seven members of the Shipping Board at $12,000 each; two members of the Interstate Commerce Commission at $12,000 each; five members of the Federal Reserve Board $12,000 each; three members of the Tariff Commission at $7,500 each; two members of the Federal Trade Commission at $10,000 each; some of the nine members of the Railroad Labor Board at $10,000 each and four members of the Federal Farm Loan Board at $10,000 each.

Four of the nine Supreme Court justices also may be appointed by President Harding. Chief Justice White and Associate Justices McKenna, Holmes and Day now are eligible by both age and length of service to voluntary retirement. The salary of the chief justice is $15,000 and that of associate justices $14,500. Postmasters comprise the bulk of Presidential patronage. There are nearly 50,000 postmaster-ships remaining in the Presidential class, although President Wilson placed many in the civil service. All have four year terms and it is estimated that President Harding will appoint something like 15,000 during the next year as the Republican majority in the Senate refused confirmation to several thousand postmasters as well as other officials, including members of the Shipping Board, during the last session of Congress.

Altho not classed technically as patronage, the President has the selection of officials for many choice places in the army and navy, thru recommendations for promotion. Among these are chiefs of War Department bureaus, including the Chief of Staff, and eleven major and twenty two brigadier generals. Selections of General officers made by President Wilson were held up in the Senate this year in the Republican blockade of Mr. Wilson's nominations, and these appointments now will be made by Mr. Harding.

In various executive branches of the government, the Department of Justice leads in patronage, with a roll of about $130,000, including a Solicitor General at $10,000, one assistant to the Attorney General at $9,000, seven other assistants at $7,500, and solicitors for the other departments.

In the Treasury Department, the principal plums are Treasurer at $8,000, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at $10,000; the Prohibition Enforcement Commissioner at $7,500; the Comptroller of the Treasury at $6,000; the Comptroller of Currency at $5,000; the Director of the Mint at $5,000 and several departmental auditors at $4,000.

Four Assistants to the Postmaster General are the best jobs in the Post Office Department subject to political change.

In the Interior Department, an Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Lands, Patents, Pensions, and Education, at $5,000 each, a Commissioner of Indian Affairs at $3,500 and Directors of Mines and Geological Survey at $6,000 each are the cream of appointments.

In the Department of Labor, an Assistant Secretary at $5,000, Commissioners of Labor and Lighthouses at $5,000 each, the Directors of the Census at $6,000; the Immigration Commissioner General at $5,000; the Commissioner of Fisheries at $6,000 and the chief of the Children's Bureau at $5,000 comprise the principal patronage.

Three members of the Civil Service Commission—one at $4,500 and two at $4,000—and a Public Printer at $6,000 are other choice presidential plums. Also there are Mexican and Canadian commission members with big salaries.

Many positions of honor without salaries also are to be filled by President Harding. Among these are appointments to the Commission of Fine Arts, the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, the Geographic Board, the Federal Electric Railways Commission, the Pan-American Commission and The Hague Court.

ILLINOIS HAD MANY FIRES IN PAST YEAR

Fire Started Some Place in State Every Thirty-seven Minutes—Total Loss Over Twenty Millions.

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—A fire broke out somewhere in Illinois every 37 minutes last year and the property destroyed would have entirely paid for the Illinois deep waterway bond issue. There were 14,167 fires, with a loss of $20,175,422, according to State Fire Marshal John G. Gamber.

While the shortage in homes was desperate, a residence caught fire every hour and a half and the value of residence property destroyed would have built 835 new homes at $5,000 each. The total dwelling house loss was $4,177,335, caused by 6,385 fires. In addition there were 1,537 fires in apartments, flats and rooming houses, with a loss of $442,080. Largest losses by occupancy were: Factories, 622 fires, $4,567,671 loss; stores, 1,197, $2,144,463; barns and stables, 337, $1,455,715; warehouse, 141, $1,063,343; garages, 447, $886,748. Railway cars to the number of 18 and value of $1,334,723 were burned.

Electricity ranked first as causing the largest loss, $1,206,423. Other important causes were: Defective chimneys, $1,189,990; sparks on roofs, $1,035,889; lightning, $999,913; exposure, $947,734.

The Illinois fire loss for January was $1,781,942. This is a reduction from the December loss of $628,501 and from the loss of January last year of $771,782. Principal causes of the January loss were: Spontaneous combustion, $357,778; sparks on roofs, $151,424; explosions, $150,222; stoves and furnaces, $94,787. Largest losses by occupancy were: factories, $402,335; garages, $349,226; dwellings, $327,767; stores, $198,028; warehouses, $178,670.

We also have on exhibit at the Show the original set of Braender Bulldog Tires that finished the entire 500 miles of the Indianapolis Speedway Race May 30, 1913 without a change. This set of tires established the world's record for tire endurance. In this race Mulford's Mercedes weighed over 2400 pounds, but the four Braenders carrying it were the only tires that went through the entire race without a change. Since that date many improvements have been made in the methods of manufacture and quality of Braender tires and they are still recognized as the most sturdy and dependable tires for track and everyday use. Come to our booth and examine these racing tires and the new Braenders.

A. C. Billman, of Indiana, who says Tanlac is unquestionably the greatest medicine he ever heard of. "It put me back on my feet after I had practically given up all hope of ever being well again," he states.

"Tanlac is unquestionably the greatest medicine I ever heard of. After I had practically given up all hope of ever being well again, it put me right back on my feet, and I am feeling one hundred per cent better than I have for twenty years. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and every one says I don't look like the same person."

For several months I suffered from a serious stomach disorder. I had no appetite and couldn't eat enough to keep up my strength. Very often when I sat down to a meal I would leave the table without touching anything scarcely, as I could not bear the sight of food, much less eat it.

"I was losing in weight and my friends would often ask me: 'What is wrong with you? Why are you looking so thin?'"

"I also suffered terribly with pains across the small of my back and over my kidneys. It was almost impossible for me to get out of bed in the morning, as my back would pain me so I would almost fall over when I would first stand up in the morning. At night my back pained me so it was impossible for me to sleep. I would lie first on one side and then on the other, and would roll and toss all night long. I had almost given up and thought maybe my age was against me, as I had taken so many different kinds of medicine without results."

"The first bottle of Tanlac didn't help me much, but I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. After starting on the second bottle I began to feel better. My appetite returned and it just looked like I could hardly wait for meal time to come. In fact, I was hungry all the time."

"My back and kidneys don't bother me any more and I can sleep like a log now. Tanlac has just simply made a new man of me, and any one living in this county can tell you the same thing, as everybody knows me and knows the shape I was in."

The above statement was made recently by A. C. Billman, of Ligonia, Ind. Mr. Billman has lived in Noble county all his life and is a well-known and highly-respected citizen of that county. Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., Wyle Drug Co., Waverly and Franklin and leading drug stores in all cities.

LITERBERRY

Mrs. Jennie McFarland has a new Victrola, with a goodly number of late records.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. John Daniels was so unfortunate as to receive very bad wound on her little finger, cutting it to the bone. Mrs. Daniels was washing dishes and struck her finger on a broken glass, not knowing the glass was broken; thinking there might be some broken pieces of glass in the wound, she went immediately to Dr. Obermeyer and received the necessary treatment.

There was quite an excitement on Broadway Friday afternoon when Riley Young's buggy mare ran away. This was about supper time and old Gray thought it was time to go, so she started home by herself and traveled fast until she arrived at S. H. Crum's gate, where the school boys found her and brought her back to town; no damage was done.

Leonard Ginder of the Grace Chapel neighborhood is delivering railroad ties here, to the C. P. & St. L. road.

Garden plowing has begun in north of Literberry; four gardens were plowed on Wednesday. Mr. Brown of Sunny Slope on Sweet Brier avenue is putting out a bed of strawberries.

He told the Royal Commission on Awards to Inventors, who are investigating his claim here, that he had worked night and day to perfect the bomb and had spent over £2,000 in the effort.

UNIQUE SCHOOL IN KENTUCKY

PADUCAH, Ky., March 5.—McCracken county has, in the Reiland school, located several miles from this city, what educators say is one of the most unique public school enterprises in the country. The school has seven teachers, including kindergarten and home economics instructors; 175 pupils; gives a free lunch to every pupil attending, takes any child free of charge, regardless of whether its home is in the district and now is preparing plans for the erection of a $25,000 building. The school is maintained without any increase in the tax levy above the figure at which it stood seven years ago, according to its sponsors.

The latest enterprise of the school is the incorporation of the "Reiland Free Lunch Association," owned and operated by the pupils under the direction of three of the teachers, who, for purposes of organization, are listed as officials. The association has a capital stock of $1,000.

Last summer the trustees purchased ten acres of land as a site for the new school building. On this land garden tracts have been set aside and in these the boys will raise garden stuff, potatoes and other vegetables needed for the lunches. A poultry flock will be maintained and $500 of the capital is to be invested in a registered and tested dairy cow for furnishing milk. Whatever funds are available after the association gets started as a capitalized affair will be invested in breeding stock, according to W. Mike Oliver, an attorney, who is credited with being the guiding spirit in the work done in the district during the last seven years.

The vegetables raised in the school gardens are to be canned by members of the Girls' Canning Club, an adjunct of the Home Economics course, and which last year canned several hundred quarts of vegetables. The lunches will be cooked by the class in cooking as part of their course. At present lunches are prepared from food-stuffs furnished by residents of the district.

Credit for the project and its success is given largely to W. Mike Oliver, well known in Western Kentucky as an authority on drainage law.

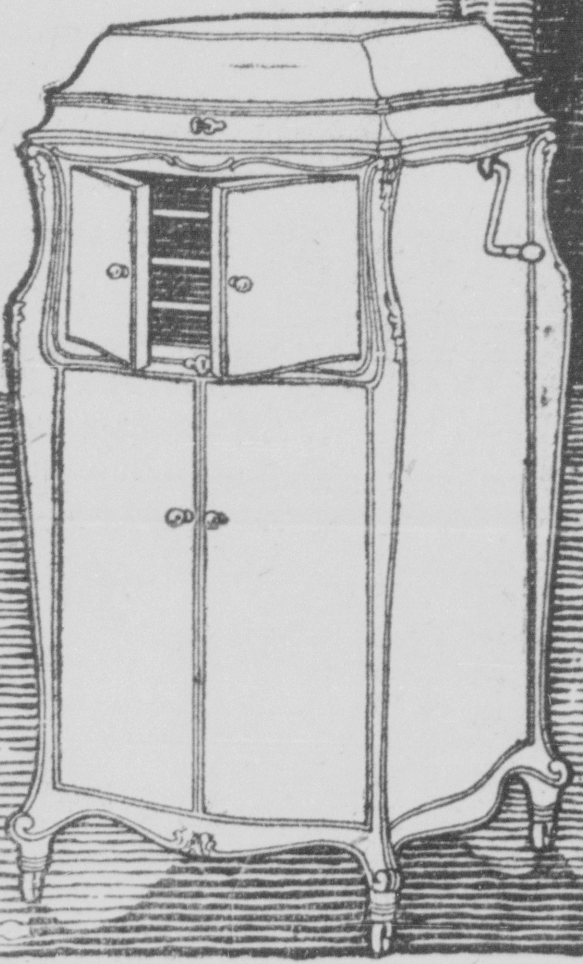

Mrs. M. R. Wise of Alexander was a local shopper Saturday.

EARLY FAMINE GIVES ILLINOIS EGYPT NAME

Famine in Corn in 1824 Gave Southern Illinois Name of Egypt—Land of Milk and Honey.

By Associated Press.
Cairo, Ill., March 5.—An early Illinois famine is hidden in the nickname of "Egypt" which clings to southernmost Illinois. Inquiry as to why Egyptian names came to be interspersed in the southern part of the state with the Indian names so freely over Illinois recalls a chapter in early Illinois history that has left its mark to this day.
While Cairo received its name because its site at the meeting of the Ohio and Mississippi reminded its settlers of the ancient city on the Nile, the angle made there by the river won its title because it had corn in plenty when the rest of Illinois was swept with need.
As they turned their faces toward the south of Illinois, the needy settlers of that day remembered Joseph and his brethren, his interpretation of Parah's dreams, the seven fat years and the even lean years and finally how all the world, including the sons of Jacob, went down into Egypt for corn.

It was in the summer of 1824 that the southern part of the state became Illinois' "Egypt." Probably the best and most generally accepted story is to be found in a foot note to Davidson and Struve's "Complete History of Illinois" published in 1876, quoting a Mr. Roberson of Arzville writing the Chicago Journal four years earlier, the history records:
"Fifty years ago or in the summer of 1824, there was not a bushel of corn to be had in Central Illinois. My father settled that year twenty-three miles west of Springfield. We had to live for a time on venison, blackberries and milk, while the men were gone to Egypt to harvest and procure breadstuffs.
"The land we improved was surveyed that summer and afterward bought from the government by sending beeswax down the Illinois river to St. Louis in an Indian canoe. Dressed deer-skins and tanned hides were then in use, we made one piece of cloth out of nettles instead of flax. Cotton matured well for a decade until the deep snow in 1830.

"The southern part of the state known as Egypt received this appellation as here indicated, because being older, better settled and cultivated, it gathered corn as sands of the sea, and the immigration of the central part of the state, after the manner of the children of Israel in their want, went thither to buy and bring thence that they might live, and not die."
To the foregoing, a writer in Murphysboro adds, "The same thing happened in Illinois again only a few years ago. Crops failed in the great corn belt of central Illinois and the farmers had to come into Southern Illinois to get seed corn. I know of this being true in the more recent years. The seed corn was gathered at Murphysboro, tested by state experts and sold to the central Illinois men."
"Egypt is the land of milk and honey. Her fertile acres compare with those of any place on earth. There are few poor agricultural spots in Egypt, but the great tracts along the valleys of the Mississippi, Ohio, Wabash, Kaskaskia, Big Muddy and lesser streams are a rich as any and the hill land is hard to beat.
"Shawneetown, Sparta, Vienna, Cahokia, Kaskaskia and a number of other old towns in southern Illinois show however, that the 'Egypt' idea didn't carry by a large majority when they got down to naming towns."
Another commentator of Cairo remarks:
"History repeated itself, too, in that Thebes, ancient capital of Egypt, was the original county seat of Alexander county, but gave way in time to Cairo, which is, like the capital on the Nile, the largest city in 'Egypt.' Even Karnak stuck to tradition and now is just a comparatively small village."

SHAWNEETOWN BANK ONE OF OLD TIMERS

Building Fine Example of Doric Architecture—Built in 1845
Shawneetown, Ill., March 5.—(By the A. P.)—Source of the banking business in Illinois home of the first state bank and of the first Illinois bank notes and paper money, Shawneetown, this one prosperous frontier commercial center, has added distinction in the realm of banks in that its institution named "The National Bank" built in 1845, is held to be one of the finest examples of Doric architecture, that this state affords.
This opinion was given by George Hodgkinson, architectural designer of the State Division of Architecture. From the point of architectural design, Mr. Hodgkinson said, the bank is one of the wonderful buildings of the state.
Built in 1845, this building is exceptional not only by the evidence of skillful designing, but also of skillful execution. "The architect," Mr. Hodgkinson said, "was thoroughly acquainted with Greek design, and was very fortunate in having craftsmen who could execute his details in a perfect manner. To this day the moldings are sharp and precise and still retain their beauty."
Further attention is drawn to the fact that the warm cream stone of which the bank was built, was procured in Pittsburgh, Pa., and transported to Shawneetown by water. The buildings, Mr. Hodgkinson said, is a fitting memorial that Shawneetown is the home of Illinois banking.
Birth of Illinois Banking.
Birth of Illinois banking, thru establishment here of the first Illinois bank, by act of the legislature December 26, 1816, came as a result of increased trade following the War of 1812. Before that time such a thing as money was scarcely ever seen in Illinois. The skins of deer and raccoon were the medium of exchange.
The advent of a bank was greeted with approbation by most people and was followed by the naming of branches of the main depository. That there was some adverse opinion is shown by the following excerpt from a paper of that time.
Thus we see, that while the legislature of almost every other State in the Union are taking measures to repress that species of swindling known by the term bank-note, the general assembly is creating a state bank with ten branches and a capital of three millions of dollars. * * * What business have we (who, in addition to all, are not a commercial people, and whose great commercial towns, Cairo and America, to use a quaint phrase, cannot be seen for the trees) with banks.
"Because the constitution has given the legislature power to create a state bank, does it follow it must be done now?—That no regard should be paid to the expediency of the thing?—So much desired by the people. 'Tis false the people never desired it—it is a gross insult to the god sense of the community—the people know that some citizens of Kaskaskia and none else, desired it, and that there were not virtue enough in their representatives to preserve the state from disgrace."
The first bank of Illinois was voted $300,000 capital, one third to be subscribed by the legislature, and the rest by individuals. John C. Reeves, of Shawneetown, who later went to Washington, D. C., and founded the Congressional Globe, the forerunner of the present Congressional Record, was the bank's first cashier. There were no money vaults in Shawneetown in those days, but the cashier himself served the purpose.

Silver money deposited in the bank was kept in barrels, and to assure that none of it would be stolen, Mr. Reeves used to sleep at night on the barrel tops.

On Wednesday, afternoon, Miss Horschbrugh, assisted by Miss Sapiro, gave a recital at the school for the Blind for the entire student body and faculty. The program was practically identical with the one they offered Thursday evening in Music Hall, and great appreciation was manifested.

Mrs. Clara Moore Nelms, former violin teacher, came over from Springfield to attend her successor, Miss Horschbrugh's recital Thursday evening. She also visited the school Friday morning.

The monthly practice recital by the children in the children's classes was given Saturday morning, followed by a history lesson by Miss Mehls. Mozart's life and music was studied. The following children played: Russell Canatsey, Ray Voltrath, Frances Cody, Frances Phipps, Marian Wilson, Mary Elizabeth Davis, Leanna Clemens and Willard Cody. All acquitted themselves well.

A number of new upright pianos have recently been placed in the Music building—both in studio and practice rooms.

Miss Louise Miller, soprano, will present a program of English and American songs in Music Hall Monday evening, March 14. This is the sixth of the series of music faculty recitals that the college is presenting this year. She will be accompanied by Violet Martens, Link of Chicago, who is already known to Jacksonville audiences, as she has assisted Miss Miller in former recitals.

Word has recently been received that Miss Myrtle Sheppard, former teacher of piano and children's classes here, is now established at Hollywood and Los Angeles, Cal. Although it is but a year and a half since she opened her studios there, she has already attracted a large following.

On account of Miss Horschbrugh's recital last Thursday evening the informal students' recital was postponed until the following Thursday afternoon, March 10.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

President Barker returned Wednesday night from Aurora, where he performed the marriage ceremony for one of the graduates, Miss Gladys Goodale. While in Aurora he visited Jennings Seminary and also Aurora college. The first of the week was spent in conference with Dr. Handier, who will be remembered by many friends in Jacksonville, in working over plans necessary for the raising of the endowment.

Dr. F. A. McCarty of Quincy, formerly of Jacksonville, was in the city Thursday night to confer with President Barker in regard to plans for the advancement of the college. He left again early Friday morning for his work in Quincy.

The gymnasium exhibition will be given March 21, and will be most interesting. The final basketball games will be played that night. After this date the gymnasium class work and special work of the department will be carried on out of doors as far as the weather will permit.

The students will give the May payment this spring. This has been written by John Kerns of this city, and will be of more than usual interest to all the friends in Jacksonville. An article has already appeared in the local papers concerning the name and character of the payment.

The Wesley Mathers Contest in the delivery of original essays was held Monday evening, February 28, in Music Hall. The contest, as usual, was one of great interest and developed intense rivalry between the sophomore and junior classes. Songs and yells enlivened the evening's program. The contest was very close, the essays all showing unusual ability in writing and skill in the delivery. The second prize was won by Miss Margaret Fowler of Springfield, and the first prize was won by Miss Hazel Dell of Dubuque, Ia. The prizes are from a fund given by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rowe of this city in memory of Mrs. Rowe's father, Wesley Mathers, who was one of the founders of the college.

SWEET CLOVER IS EXCELLENT PASTURE

Experiments at the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Illinois, indicate that from one and a half to two acres of the best blue grass pasture are required to carry a cow with a suckling calf thru the grazing season. Obviously we cannot afford to eliminate from our cropping system, one and a half to two acres of $300 or $400 land to graze an ordinary grade beef cow and her calf. If cattle breeding on high priced land is to prosper, the summer maintenance of the cow herd must depend upon the utilization of a legume pasture which has a value in the crop rotation in addition to its pasture value.

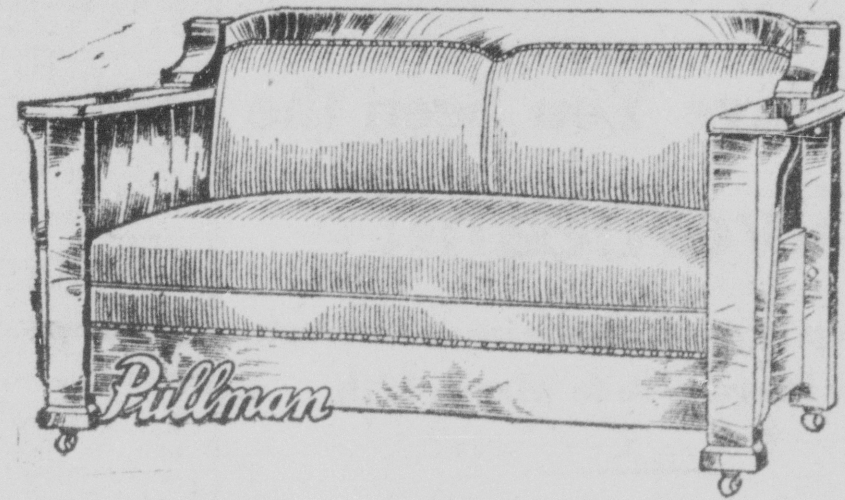

The first experimental work at the Illinois Station on the use of sweet clover as a cattle pasture was done during the summer of 1916. Seven cows with several calves were turned on seven acres of sweet clover on May 20. Half of this field was mowed for hay on June 1. It had made too rank a growth for good hay and the mowing killed practically all of the clover. However, these seven acres, with the addition of 950 pounds of hay per cow, carried the cows and their calves for a total of 147 days. The best mixed pasture on the University farm that season yielded a pasturage of 98 days per acre for cow and calf. The same season nine purebred two-year-old heifers on 8.65 acres of sweet clover that was seeded that spring, secured 128 days' pasturage per acre. During the season of 1918, 9 acres of sweet clover seeded in oats the preceding spring, yielded 136.2 days' pasturage per acre. This is calculated on the basis of mature animals calves not counted. The same season our Oremare mixture, which had been seeded in oats the preceding spring, gave 95 days pasturage per acre, and our best mixed pasture, which was largely blue grass, yielded 110 days' pasturage per acre.

This past season eight acres of second year's growth of sweet clover, pastured with thirteen yearling heifers yielded a 271.1 days' pasturage per acre. Other results secured at this station do not differ materially from those cited. The greatest difference we have experienced in pasturing sweet clover seeded in oats the previous season was to keep ahead of it in the spring and make it hold out in the fall. While the Animal Husbandry Department has never been fortunate enough to have a good stand in stable ready to turn onto when the regular pasture failed, results of observations lead us to believe that under the right system of management we may depend upon the sweet clover after mow in oats stubble to supplement our second year's growth during the fall. Likewise, observations of results secured by practical farmers as well as the effects secured by clipping on the agronomy plots, lead us to believe that clipping high at the right stage of growth may safely be employed for holding back growth in the spring, and that such clipping high at the right stage of growth and that such clipping will materially lengthen the period of growth in the fall. The sum total of the experimental evidence and of results secured by practical breeders, indicate that sweet clover, when properly handled, may be depended upon to give at least as much pasturage per acre as our best blue grass pasture. ### ELKS TO RECEIVE ANOTHER BIG CLASS

One Hundred to Be Initiated at Ceremonial Session March 17th.

A great deal of interest attaches to the ceremonial session that the Elks are planning for Thursday, March 17. At that time a class of 100 will be admitted. The list is almost completed, although applications received before Wednesday of this week can be included in this class. The growth of the local lodge is a matter of common knowledge and naturally when the new and commodious home is completed, membership in the order will be still more desirable.

Work has been in progress on the home for weeks past and while the date of its completion is not in the immediate future, it will not be many weeks until the larger part of the building will be ready for occupancy. Those who have inspected the building and noted the work as it has progressed can understand that when this home is finished and furnished the Elks lodge of Jacksonville will have quarters that will compare with any in the state outside Chicago. The improvements have been planned with good taste and the funds available are being expended with discretion.

PLAN TO GIVE AID IN FINANCIAL RESTORATION

London, Feb. 17.—(By A. P.)—A plan to aid in the financial restoration of Europe by the formation of a large syndicate of banks and insurance companies is under consideration by government representatives and leading bankers and insurance men. Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, is conducting the negotiations for the government.

The proposal also has been taken up for discussion by the Federation of British Industries and by several Chambers of Commerce.

TENS OF THOUSANDS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN HOUSED IN FIRE TRAPS

Report is Made On Conditions in 429 Cities
Thruout the United States—Lack of Playground Facilities Also is Brought Out in Report—Many Buildings are Fire Traps

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 5.—Tens of thousands of school children housed in fire traps and hundreds of thousands of them either on half-time or in makeshift buildings is the condition in 429 cities of the United States as disclosed in a report made public today.

The report was issued by the National Committee for Chamber of Commerce co-operating with the public schools on a survey conducted by the American City Bureau.

The committee was organized in February, 1920, to inquire into school conditions. Its executive committee is headed by George D. Strayer of Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

The evidence presented shows "clearly that there are tens of thousands of children housed in old, unsanitary, dangerous buildings," says Dr. Strayer, in his introduction to the report. "Many of these structures are best classified as fire-traps."

Data was received from 429 cities. The report says: "These facts, obtained from 75 per cent of all cities reporting, show that in these cities, even excluding those housed in annexes, where conditions may be normal, there are more than 453,000 children, who are either on half-time because of lack of building space, or are housed in portables, rented buildings, attics, basements or corridors. It would require an average of two 30-room buildings in each of these cities to properly house these groups of children alone."

Inadequate Playgrounds.
The report sets forth statistically the inadequacy of playground space. "It is clear that in many cities children are now housed in buildings in which there is less space on the playground than is supplied in the classroom in which they are taught," says Mr. Strayer, in the introduction.

"Three million six hundred thousand children are represented in this report on playgrounds," it is stated, "and the study discloses that one-half of them—1,800,000 children—have each a playground of less than six by six feet per pupil and many of them have no playground at all."

"These facts of limited playground space," says the report, "present one of the serious problems confronting those who are interested in the welfare of American school children. Whatever the cost, adequate playground space should be provided for these school buildings, a city erected in congested districts. Public sentiment must be so strong that it will be considered a breach of trust for school authorities to erect a school building on a site that will not afford adequate playground space for all the pupils housed in the building."

Many Firetraps.
On the subject of fire hazard in schools, the report states: "Only 5 per cent of the total number of buildings are of the types of construction usually called fireproof. Only a small number have fireproofing elements to lessen the fire hazard to the children. At least 25 per cent of the two poorest types of buildings are of two or more stories and do not have a fire escape. Thirty-nine per cent of them are without fire extinguishers, and less than 10 per cent of them have automatic sprinkler equipment in any part of the buildings. Only 11 per cent have automatic fire alarms. Such facts as these demonstrate the existence of a real menace to the children of these cities." One-half of present-day schools were built prior to 1897.

The report directs attention to "the large number of children between the ages of 13 and 16 years who leave the public schools." "There is probably no more serious problem or one more difficult to solve now facing the people of this country," it says.

According to the reports from 290 cities, six per cent of the children have left school before their 13th year, 19 per cent before 14, 38 per cent before 15 and 64 per cent before they are 16 years old.

"In the geographical groups," the report continues, "the highest per cent of these children remain in the eastern cities. * * * Next in order are the Great Plains cities, then the southern, the Great Lakes, and the lowest of all are the western cities. In this last group only 29 per cent of the children 16 years of age, and 56 per cent of those from 14 to 16 years, inclusive, are in school."

Attention is directed to "a notable falling off in attendance" at evening schools during the last six years, a "period of unusually high wages."

WONDERFUL PLAY COMING TO SCOTT'S

"Kismet" is coming to Scott's theater for three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
Exaggeration is an evil of the theatricals, yet we do not hesitate to state that "Kismet" with Otis Skinner is the miracle of the theatre's art.

Because: Everyone who sees Bagdad of 1,000 years ago brought to life before their eyes—sees the harems filled with Arabian Night beauties, the palace of the ruler in splendor, and all its glorious pageantry will agree that there is no exaggeration.

"Kismet" the greatest and most picturesque drama ever written by an American author, was produced and became a theatrical triumph in both the United States and Europe. Translated into a dozen different tongues, the story of the play has become a literary classic thruout the world. In the role of Hajj, the Beggar, Otis Skinner, greatest of American character actors, thrilled his audiences from coast to coast for three continuous seasons. Like wine, "Kismet" has improved with age, until now we are privileged to view it at its best in a wonderful film production.

"Kismet" is conceded to be the most stupendous photoplay ever made, and is probably the most costly of productions. It is conservatively stated that "Kismet" costs as much as ten ordinary feature pictures. Besides Mr. Skinner, the cast includes many stage and screen notables. The gorgeousness of the settings has never been surpassed. "Kismet" as a stage production was one of the greatest triumphs of the theatre. The screen version is truly "The Miracle of the Theatre's Art."

LOOK FOR REVIVAL OF STATE FUNCTIONS

Many Believe State Dinners and Other Social Features Will be Inaugurated by the New President.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Social and diplomatic Washington looks for a revival under the President and Mrs. Harding of formal state dinners and other social functions at the White House which ceased with the entrance of the United States into the world war.

Directions from Mr. Harding for abandonment of the official social events incident to his inauguration were conceded by those hoping for normalcy to be a blow to their expectations, but the recent shopping trip made by Mrs. Harding to New York and other events have renewed their optimism.

In preparation for the arrival of the new "First Lady of the Land," the White House has been redecorated and the furnishings renewed. In addition Mrs. Harding has requested that additional flowers be placed around the White House. Her friends expect her to act as hostess at a number of garden parties during the spring, thereby restoring one of the favorite forms of entertainments of former days.

Likewise, it is expected that she will entertain at teas, her guests including in addition to intimate friends the wives of the members of the diplomatic corps. Another social custom that she may revive is the regular weekly "at home" to wives of cabinet members, a function in past administrations corresponding in time with the regular Tuesday cabinet meetings. It is also reported that she will restore the custom of Marine Band concerts on the White House grounds.

Whether President and Mrs. Harding will revive the state dinners remains to be developed. Four of these usually are given each season, one to the cabinet, one to the diplomatic corps, one to the judiciary and one to congressional leaders. These dinners head the official social season and it is regarded as assured that they will not be revived, at least, until next winter.

Greater participation by the White House in society is expected to be attended by removal of many of the restrictions which since 1917 have barred uninvited visitors from the White House grounds. Since the United States entered the war visitors to the capital have had to content themselves with seeing the White House from a distance or from behind the iron fence surrounding the grounds.

President Harding's friends declare that orders for the opening of the gates to the grounds will be issued soon. It is not regarded as probable, however, that certain portions of the White House, such as the Blue room and Red room, will be thrown open to the public on certain days as was the custom before the war.

FACTS ON COMMUNITY SURVEY ARE READY

Reports Will Be Presented to Red Cross Meeting Monday,
March 14th at Pilgrim Memorial.

Much interest attaches to the announcement that the Community Survey, undertaken by the Morgan County Chapter, Red Cross under the direction of Miss Belden, has been completed and is now ready to be presented at a meeting called for Monday evening, March 14th, Pilgrim Memorial Congregational church. To this meeting all interested people in Jacksonville and the County are invited.

The Community Survey idea was launched last May at a Conference called by the Red Cross with its ten branches. At that time Mr. Grant Burgher, Field Representative from the central division was present and after conferences with the various representatives from the branches, it was decided that the Community Study was necessary as a basis for deciding upon the peace time activities of the Red Cross.

For it is with the thought of serving the County in ways most needed that the Red Cross passes from a War-time to a Peace organization.

Morgan county points with pride to its splendid record during the war: it points also with equal pride to its record during this transition period of carrying on the soldier job and of making a start in developing a constructive health program. The report for Home Service during the month of February, shows a total one hundred twenty-two ex-service men cases having been dealt with which is representative of the work has continuously handled each month since the armistice. In order to carry on down into the years a work of the same effectiveness, Morgan County chapter relies upon the findings of the Survey to outline its program.

Miss Evelyn Belden who directed the Community Study came to Jacksonville after having completed similar studies for Council Bluffs, Iowa, and for Decatur, Ill., both of which cities are now working on their peace program as outlined in these surveys. Feeling that it was not sufficient to have merely a vote of the Red Cross to launch the study and believing that the entire community should be back of such a move, a community committee meeting to which sixty-five organizations were invited was held at Red Cross Headquarters in August, 1920. This gathering voted favorably upon the Survey. The actual work extended over October and November when Miss Belden personally directed it with the assistance of seven chairmen, about sixty workers and students from the Colleges and High School. Since Miss Belden's return to Chicago the material gathered has been for several months in the hands of experts who have put the study in its final shape.

It is a document of over a hundred pages covering Jacksonville and County from its aspects of general characteristics, topography, type of people, etc., health, sanitation, delinquency, recreation and education. All of these general subjects are discussed in detail and the study gives a wonderfully complete picture of Jacksonville and Morgan county. The survey will be of inestimable value to all who are interested in civic betterment. Its comprehensive program looks forward to a good which cannot be reached in a year or two but which will be ultimate accomplished by the steady participation of a Chapter and branches from month to month and year to year.

The Central Committee which stood back of the Community Study included:

Dr. Carl E. Black, chairman;
M. F. Dunlap, W. L. Fay, J. J. Kelly, Dr. F. A. Norris, Thomas Worthington, Mayor E. E. Crabtree, H. M. Capps, Mrs. O. F. Bufile.

MISSOURI MAN HOLDS APPROVAL OF RESIDENTS

Capt. James A. Stadler of Joplin With American Relief Commission in Upper Silesia—Germans and Poles Both Approve Work.

Kattowitz, Upper Silesia, March 5.—Captain James A. Stadler of Joplin, Missouri, in the employ of the American Relief Administration here, is the only man in this strife-torn country who has received a token of joint approval of the German and Polish residents.

After 18 months of hard work and adventuring in which he has been the common target for machine-gun fire of Poles and Germans, faced mobs, fed the hungry, administered to the dying, saved prisoners slated for execution, and acted as the arbiter of revolution and strikes, he is preparing to go home to show the folks a big silver cup which his friends presented him when they learned he was about to leave.

There was some rivalry about the cup for the Poles and Germans each wanted to give it, and they only wanted him to have one, but at last they agreed upon a common course, for the first time in 800 years, some of them asserted. They all chipped in equal amounts bought the cup, had it beautifully worked and engraved and presented it with much formality and many nice words in two languages.

As representative of an American organization, Captain Stadler's position has demanded the most careful observance of every rule of neutrality, exercise of considerable ingenuity and, now and then, an extraordinary fleetness of foot.

He established himself with Poles and Germans alike during the uprising last August. He had been to the Polish prison camp at Cracow to ask for the release of nearly 200 Germans who had been spirited over the border. On his return trip he got between the Polish and German lines and machine guns began to volley at him he ran to a ditch and crawling along this reached the German side where he was immediately made prisoner, but later was released. He thinks his foot-work saved his life that day.

There were a number of women in the camp at Cracow and conditions were very bad. Some of the women were confined in hospital huts with the men. They wore only blankets and the men were clad in gunny sacks, one sack to each man.

When the captain secured permission to return these prisoners he discovered in the camp nearly 100 German who had been in Russian prisons in Siberia. He was given authority to take them along and any other Germans he found. He returned with 500.

At the border a mob of Polish soldiers and civilians threatened the prisoners but the captain was flying an American flag from every car of the train and, with a revolver in one hand and an American flag in the other, he forced the mob to retreat beyond hand grenade range.

The Germans who had been in Siberia fell down and kissed the ground and wept when they were once again on German soil.

Captain Stadler interceded with German authorities a number of times in August to save Polish prisoners. None of them were shot. The captain is the only American in Kattowitz.

BETTING ON HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

It is my intention to promote in every way possible the campaign against betting. We hear repeatedly that high school athletics are in danger from this cause. But what is this danger?

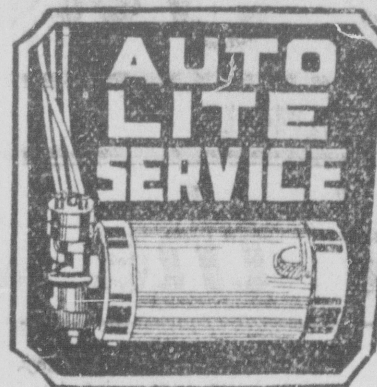

When betting is permitted just to that extent the high school gymnasium partakes one of the properties of a gambling house, where money is at stake on the results of the games being played. All such houses are closed by the law of the state of Illinois, and herein lies the real danger. Not that they shall be discontinued by law, which is very possible, but that school men, school boards and citizens interested in the very best possible influence for our young people will demand it.

At the present time no one is in favor of discontinuing high school athletics. There are many reasons why they should be encouraged to the greatest possible extent. These I do not have either time nor space to enumerate. They are familiar to all and constitute the reason why every one should get behind this movement and see that all cases are reported and why every one should do his utmost to promote the proper public sentiment against betting on the results of high school games.

I want to solicit the co-operation of every lover of good, clean sportsmanship. Do you have the courage to do it? B. F. Shafer.

That was the despairing lament of a would-be-contestant for a portion of that market Reo Speed Wagons have by their matchless record, created for themselves.

Expensive Battery Troubles are Eliminated by the Electrolyte Storage Battery

The ELECTROLYTE is the greatest achievement in storage batteries since their manufacture was begun. It has always been the aim of inventors and engineers to make a Storage Battery without Separators. You will find it in the ELECTROLYTE. If you want 100% efficiency in battery service you can get it only in the ELECTROLYTE. This battery has what every other battery manufacturer wishes he had.

No Ruinous Sulphation

Ruinous sulphation in conjunction with wooden separators cause 95 per cent of all battery trouble. All wooden separators become soft and pulpy and the plates pinch through. It is the touching of the plates which follows when the wooden separators become a pulpy mass that causes a battery to go dead. When the plates touch the battery short-circuits itself—result, a dead battery, trouble and expense.

Electrolyte 100% Efficient

Elimination of separators from ELECTROLYTE batteries means 100 per cent efficiency. Your battery is free of constant care and attention. Frequent recharging is unnecessary, and there is no need to limit the discharge to a certain voltage per cell or to take apart and wash the plates when not in use for an extended period. It cannot be injured by buckling of plates or heavy discharges and is not harmed if left uncharged for any length of time.

Eighteen Months Written Guarantee

Every purchaser of an ELECTROLYTE storage battery will be furnished with a written guarantee without any catch phrases in it that the battery will be either repaired or replaced by the manufacturer if it does not meet every condition under which it is sold during the eighteen months.

KANSAS PIONEER LIVES TO RIPE AGE

Colonel Briggs Baldwin Lineage
Runs Back to Cromwell's Time—Has Been Prominent in History of Country.

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., March 5.—Descending from a line of ancestry which is distinctly recorded back to an officer of Cromwell's army, Colonel Elias Briggs Baldwin, Kansas pioneer and soldier and teacher is today approaching his eighty seventh birthday.

Col. Baldwin was born June 17, 1824, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., being the eldest of fifteen children. He was educated in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, Academy, and when a young man was principal of a school in Auburn, N. Y., where he formed a lasting friendship with William H. Seward, who later became secretary of state in the cabinet of Abraham Lincoln.

When the war between the states blazed forth, young Baldwin was active in the organization of the 36th Illinois Volunteer Infantry, under President Lincoln's first call for troops, and was made a captain in that regiment. During the rivalry as to which regiment should be accepted first and in succession under the president's call, Captain Baldwin wrote to Secretary Seward, urging the acceptance of the 36th Illinois, and Seward replied that it would be accepted as soon as it was ready.

As captain of Company C, in this regiment, Baldwin succeeded (afterwards General) Phil H. Sheridan as quartermaster at Springfield, Mo., at which time all supplies passed through his hands to General Franz Sigel in the battle of Pea Ridge, Missouri.

Baldwin was later advanced to a lieutenant-colonelcy of the 8th Missouri cavalry and was chief of staff under General Frank Herron. At one time he was provost marshal of the Third Division of the Army of the Frontier.

Located at Kansas.
In 1868 Colonel Baldwin located at Ottawa, Kan., but the following year removed to La Motte county, where he continued to reside almost continuously until his death. He was elected commander of his local post of the G. A. R., many times and was a member of the Loyal Legion, and held numerous offices of public trust. He was a delegate to the national Republican convention from Iowa which first nominated General Grant for the presidency.

Colonel Baldwin was a lineal descendant of the family of Lieut. Col. George Baldwin, Haselrigg's Regiment, in the English Parliamentary army under Protector Oliver Cromwell, and afterwards colonial settler at days of Governor Peter Stuyvesant.

Colonel Baldwin was twice married. His first wife was Julia Crampton, daughter of distinguished New England ancestry. By this union, three sons were born: Evelyn B. Baldwin, Arctic Explorer, now in the government service at Washington; Milton N., of Princeton, Ill.; and Burton L., of Miami, Okla. His second wife was Lydia Gibbs of Bridgeton, Maine. By this marriage, two children were born, of whom one survives, Mrs. Julia A. Ball of Labette county.

Evelyn B. Baldwin, who is 59 years old, has lived as active a life as that of his father, his experience ranging all the way from rushing thru the icy wastes of the north, to aiding in bringing sustenance to the starving babies of Belgium during the war with Germany.

He toured Europe on foot and astride a bicycle; taught school; has acted as observer for the weather bureau; inspector-at-large for the U. S. Signal Corps, accompanied Peary on his Greenland expedition; was second in command of Walter Wellman's expedition to Franz Josef land; built posts and depots in the Arctic zone, and later headed his own expedition into the polar regions.

John Sevier came to the city from Waverly yesterday on business matters.

HELL AND DAMN GOOD SAXON WORDS

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Mar. 5.—While Rev. George Craig Stewart, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, Ill., is authority for the statement that the words "Hell" and "Damn" are good Saxon words, yet he deprecates their use, except where an extraordinary comparison is necessary to express the thought intended.

Certain things are damnable and ought to be condemned, Rev. Stewart explains. When a comparison is needed to emphasize something so low as to be almost devoid of a possible comparison, "Hell" is not oftentimes out of place the pastor states.

But do not misunderstand me," Dr. Stewart adds: "I am in favor of the use of these words in a blasphemous way nor am I in any sense condoning swearing."

FEDERAL GAME LAW VIOLATOR HEAVILY FINED

That it is becoming a serious matter to violate the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty Act is evidenced by the fact that a violator in New Jersey was recently fined $200 and sentenced to 10 days in jail for killing wild geese after the close of the Federal open season. The geese were killed during the latter part of February, whereas January 31 is the last day that the Federal law permits the hunting of migratory birds, including ducks and geese, anywhere in the United States.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

WE have stated on several occasions that our new seven passenger "Lakewood 6-66" is a car without a legitimate competitor.

By that we mean that it very distinctly outclasses every car in its own price field.

By that we mean that it can be compared with only the finest and most expensive motor vehicles on the market.

This is a broad and sweeping statement—very important if true, and very improper if founded on anything less substantial than facts.

But we are sure of our facts and the time is at hand when you can confirm them.

Practically every reputable American motor car is now on exhibition at the automobile show.

We suggest that you visit that show and compare the "Lakewood" with any car—at any price—and form your own conclusions.

So much for the facts that can be established indoors.

We next suggest that you forget entirely about standards of beauty and move to the real testing ground of mechanical fitness.

Take just one demonstration in the "Lakewood" and judge it from the standpoints of power, speed, acceleration, spring suspension and general motor efficiency.

Get the facts—actual lapsed time of the tests—and make a record on the demonstration card furnished by our Dealer.

Then take a second demonstration in any other car, at any price, and compare the results.

That is all we ask—and we make no prophecies whatever in regard to your ultimate conclusions.

In any fair, legitimate, stock car competition the "Lakewood" will tell its own story—and you must be the judge.

Come, sportsmen. Let us show you the mettle of a real thoroughbred.

"Modern Motor Cars"

The cars which for years have set the standard for body beauty and form, for comfort, for durability and low maintenance cost.

FOUR STYLES

Coupe Sedan Touring Roadster

What You Should Know
About Any Car

Engineering is the most important element of success in motor cars. Looks, comfort, performance and durability are the results of its definite application, first in design and then in the processes of manufacture.

Here and there an impression prevails that because a company uses standard units, as, for instance, a Continental motor, Timken axles, and the like, the assembling of the car is a simple matter. Nothing could be further from the truth. To build a high-grade car it is first necessary to know the relative values of the numerous units manufactured, that one may be sure the ones selected are the best that can be procured.

Then the highest engineering skill is required to combine them into a car of the proper design, weight and balance, so that the finished product will represent 100 per cent efficiency, or less, if the work is less skillfully done.

The Moon Comprises All This

What You Should Know
of the Moon Sedan

Speeding down the broad highway or drawn up to the curb in the conspicuous light of the theatre entrance, the Moon Sedan reflects your idea of what a custom-built car should be. Since Joseph W. Moon, out of a wealth of experience as a manufacturer of fine carriages, built the first Moon fourteen years ago, Moon design and coach work have set standards for motordom.

The Moon Sedan is a companion of luxury that fits into everyday use during all seasons.

There are the wide windows that close snugly and open easily. A foot-operated heater gives fire-side comfort on cold days. When warm rains or summer dust require closed protection, a ventilator adjustable from the inside keeps the interior cool with an abundance of fresh air.

The Twin City Tractor

will also be on display, and its merits and claims for preference will be fully explained to those interested. We are distributors in this territory for the complete line of Twin City Power Farming Equipment.

CORN BUT NOT ALONE IS GOOD HOG FATTENER

(By B. E. Powell.)

"One of the most urgent problems of the Swine Feeder of the Corn Belt states at the present time is securing a sufficient and economical supply of protein feeds for balancing the corn ration.

In recent years corn prices have reached such levels that many feeders of the Corn Belt have used other feeds in place of the time honored Corn. They have found awaiting their demands dozens of commercial feeds, a few which were offered at prices that rightly made them competitors of corn in some sections of the country, while on the other hand many were offered at exorbitant prices. Some farmers have brought these feeds regardless of their values, but with the conviction they were justified, because of the money that they could get for their corn.

Times have changed since those times. Now the farmer is looking for a place to put his corn where it will bring to him at least the cost of production. Inside the pig looks a wise choice to many a farmer.

Now it is true that while corn is a good food for hogs it does not contain enough protein which is necessary for growth to be used alone. A little later on I am going to tell you of an experiment in feeding hogs in different ways.

Wheat middlings, wheat bran, cotton-seed meal, linseed meal, tankage, skim milk, and buttermilk are among the most important of the well known and widely used by-products that help to balance the live stock rations on the Corn Belt farms.

All of these are classed as protein feeds and are bought to offset the deficiencies of the home grown rations rather than to replace them in any way. During the growing season forage crops, especially legume crops, are helping more and more to solve the problems of a sufficient and cheap supply of protein. However, even with forage crops some concentrated protein food is usually beneficial. Without the forage crop it is an essential. For farmers have sufficient skim milk or buttermilk to supply the protein needs of their hogs. Tankage is high and there has not been nearly enough of it to supply the demand. The demand for matured soy beans for seedling purposes largely prohibits their use as a protein feed for hogs. Cotton seed meal is not to be generally recommended as a hog food. Linseed meal is expensive, considering returns from it and the once favored wheat middlings are now low grade and expensive.

A series of experiments have been started at the Purdue Experiment station for the purpose of getting information on the feeding value of some high protein feeds that are comparatively new on the market. One trial has been completed in which fish meal, linseed oil meal, semi-solid buttermilk, and ground soy beans are compared with tankage and creamery buttermilk as protein supplements to corn for fattening hogs. These various protein supplements fed with corn were also compared with a ration of corn alone. The results condemn the practice of feeding corn alone. The ten hogs in each lot, were started at an average weight of 107 pounds and were fed until they had gained an average of 120 pounds each. All were self fed according to appetite, that is, they had their choice of protein feed or shelled corn from separate compartments of a self-feeder. The semi-solid buttermilk or the buttermilk were fed twice daily in troughs while the shelled corn in these lots was fed in self-feeders.

The Results: Buttermilk won. The pigs on buttermilk made an average daily gain of 2.14 pounds per hog at a cost of $10.44 per hundred pounds, and it required only 56 days to get them fattened for 120 pork.

Fishmeal was second. The average daily gain was 1.99 pounds. The cost per hundred weight was $10.40. It took 62 days to get them ready.

Soy Bean oil meal was third. The average daily gain was 1.93 pounds. The cost per hundred weight of pig acquired was $10.83. The time required to achieve the desired fatness in this instance was 68 days.

Tankage was fourth. The average daily gain was 1.76 pounds. It cost $11.64 per hundred and took 68 days to lay on the desired fat.

Semi-solid buttermilk was fifth. The average daily gain was 1.65 pounds. The cost was $12.70 per hundred weight and the time 73 days.

Ground soy beans was sixth. Daily gain 1.41 pounds. Cost per hundred weight of pig $13.58; time 85 days.

Corn alone was last. The average daily gain was .97 pounds. Cost $15.28 per hundred weight; time 124 days or he was in the pen twice as long as pigs on other feeds. Just now corn is worth little, the hogs time is not valuable but labor is high and profit essential. Corn but not corn alone is a good slogan for the farmer who would fatten hogs.

Tropical Ants Threatening Building at State School for Deaf—Office Seekers Threatening State House in Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 5.—(By the A. P.)—Large colonies of tropical ants are threatening the destruction of the buildings at the Illinois School for Deaf in Jacksonville, according to Col. F. D. Whipp, fiscal supervisor of the state department of public welfare.

Colonel Whipp has received a report that white ants are attacking the school buildings and are eating away the supports under the floor of the art room. According to the report, the ants have perforated about two square feet of hard maple floor and have already weakened the supports until there is danger that the floor will collapse unless the ants are exterminated and the timbers renewed.

"Perhaps the mild winter climate in Illinois is attracting the white ants from the tropics," remarked Colonel Whipp.

"It is said that in Central America, West Africa and Panama white ants destroy whole buildings. Quite often the entire interior wood work is eaten away, leaving the paint as a shell."

Colonel Whipp stated the invasion of the ant army has been reported to the state architect's office but that none of the force seemed to be familiar with the subject. The officials of the Jacksonville institution have been advised to take the matter up with the state entomologist at the University of Illinois for expert advice.

"Unless speedy action is taken," said Colonel Whipp "the state Capitol and the Centennial building authorities may have to dig trenches in order to meet this army of ants."

It is durably built and stands up under the severe strains of constant service, under all conceivable road and weather conditions.

It is the internal-gear type and All-International in design and quality and construction.

The many such quality factors as the famous final drive in International Motor Trucks, have put these trucks among the few peers in total sales in the traffic world. ### ARMY PLANS AIRPLANE TO CARRY 100 PERSONS

This Opinion Given Out by Von Tirpitz, German Naval Authority — Development of Naval Forces With a Jerk.

SAINT BLAISEN, Baden, March 5.—(By A. P.)—Admiral Von Tirpitz, German naval authority, in an interview today gave his views of the influence of air-craft upon future wars. He discounted the Zeppelin airship as too much subject to wind and too vulnerable for ordinary reconnoitering. The airplane, in his opinion, has a much greater future, as it has an economic importance for traffic which will tend to perfect it for war purposes.

While the airplane has taken a high place in land fighting as a substitute for cavalry, Admiral Von Tirpitz said it had not devel- oped its usefulness to the same de- gree in sea reconnoitering, but that was probably due to the new- ness of the airplane, which wa- terplanes of the future might con- ceivably overcome.

The admiral reserved his opin- ion on the possibility of effective attacks by airplanes upon battle- ships, but clearly showed he had doubts that airplanes will become a great menace to the warships, as, he pointed out, the latter will develop devices for defence while heavily loaded airplanes will al- ways be in danger of counter at- tacks from lighter machines.

"In comparison with ships," he said, "airplanes will always have a fundamental disadvantage in their small loading capacity, espe- cially when they are to be used on a wide expanse of ocean. From a study of the history of naval war- fare, the great exponent of which was an American, I am persuaded that the nature of naval forces will not change with a jerk, but will develop organically, for de- velopment takes some time, which only in imagination and fancy can be skipped. In this respect, the late war has not affected any fun- damental alteration, although, of course, the rate of technical de- velopment is much faster than for- merly."

Miss Grace Roberts was also a visitor from Franklin yesterday. Miss Mary McGhee of Chestnut Hill, was a guest at the Illinois Woman's College Saturday.

Automobile Show, March 7 to 12

Note These Few Brief Maxwell Superiorities

If we can have your attention for just a few moments, we will explain in a non-technical manner terms used by the general public, referring to the different parts of an automobile.

First, we notice the automobile running along a very rough road. We can see the wheels bounding up and down, but the occupants are enjoying every comfort of a pleasant ride as though they were riding on a very smooth road. "Compensating underslung spring action is the answer." "Every Maxwell has it."

Next, we follow the car to a sandy road; the ruts are very deep. We turn the curve with ease and if we wish to re- lease our hold on the steering wheel, the front wheels will stay in their paths. The wheels do not turn off the road when they come in contact with ruts or road obstructions, as the car ahead does. We have absolute control, ease and comfort—no fatigue. "That's the irreversible steering gear." "You'll find it on every Maxwell."

Now we stop to look over the beautiful scenery, or have lunch at the farm house. On returning to the car we step in, press the button and we are ready to start. With gears in first speed we gradually let the clutch in, and, with the vel- vet get-a-way of a passenger train we start on our trip—no jerking, no clutch grabbing. That is a sure sign of the "Cone clutch running in oil." "It's on the Maxwell."

We also note there is no heat coming off the motor to mar the pleasure of our trip; no stopping to fill up with water or let the engine cool off. "There's a reason." "It's the thermo syphon cooling system." "They use it on the Maxwell."

We drive along an even stretch of concrete road, out in the country—no danger, or sheriff, so we "step on it" and the response is surprising. It speeds on until objects blur before our vision. That surely was a thriller! But stop and think the reason why. Of course you know it is "power." It's surely in the Maxwell.

Three Superior Models Are Here--The Roadster, Touring and Sedan And the Celebrated One and One-Half Ton Maxwell Truck

The Maxwell's Truck Record

Maxwell Motor Truck finishes world's record transcontinental run from San Francisco to New York 3428.7 miles through 11 states and across 31 mountain ranges, the Maxwell 1½ ton truck in a total time of 17 days 8 hours and 20 minutes. New records were made on practically every kind of truck performance.

This Maxwell Motor Truck with a load of 1½ tons made a daily average of 197.8 miles at an average running speed of 16.5 miles per hour. At no time did the maximum speed exceed 20 miles per hour. Through mud of mountains, and ledges of rocks where there was practically no road, pulling through heavy gumbo mud in Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois, driving slow through cities, the average mileage per gallon of gasoline was 12 miles and the average of oil was 32.65 miles per gallon.

Some interesting statistics have been secured from this world's record transcontinental run. At one place the high altitude of 8300 feet was attained. The motor revolved 17,180,229 times. The wheel revolved 1,974,739 times. The battery timer operated 34,309,434 times.

The entire trip was made on 4 tires with only 1 puncture—that being all the tire trouble encountered on the trip. The GENERAL CORD TIRE, said Mr. Willis, will stand in his opinion more abuse than any automobile tire on the market.
